Giants Loom Up Best In Statistics But It Takes Runs To Win Games

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Even money and take your pick was the slogan today of local betters on the world series between the Washington Senators and the New York Giants. In many cases, wagers were held up while backers of both teams waited for the short end of a 6-to-5 price.

The largest bet made in the last twenty-four hours was reported by Jack Doyle, the sage of Broadway, who declared he was holding the stakes of a wager of $5000 against $2500, with the Senators favored. In addition, G. B. De Chandelos & Co. announced that it is holding $20,000 to bet on the Senators at even money and $10,000 to bet against $14,000 that the Giants will win the opening game.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Figures don't lie, says the man who needs a "pat" phrase in order to prove an argument. Perhaps they don't, but statistics are guilty of false representations.

Juggling with a sour statistic or so leads to the assumption that the New York Giants are immeasurably superior to the Washington Senators on attack. The writer is pleased to doubt it, in spite of the figures.

These show that the Giants, mustering a line-up of their most enthusiastic hitters, have a team batting average of .314, exclusive of pitchers. A corresponding number of Senators have hit for .299. They would seem to run a very bad second. They do not.

Frisch to Appear But Groh May Not Go In First Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Optimistic reports came from the headquarters of the New York Giants on the question of whether Frank Frisch, second baseman and captain, would be able to play in the first game of the world series at Washington on Saturday.

"Frisch's finger is coming along nicely and I will be very surprised if he fails to appear in the lineup for the opening game," one official said.

The condition of Heinie Groh, third baseman, who was laid low with an injured knee, was not so satisfactory, however, and it was understood that the Giants were planning to take the field with Fred Lindstrom as his understudy.

NIPPON DOES NOT STRIVE TO INVOLVE AMERICA

Foreign Minister Declares Protocol Objection Only Fight for Principle

BULLETIN
PEKING, Oct. 1.—According to Japanese sources a Russo-Japanese agreement recognizing the soviet government of Russia is expected to be signed within two weeks.

Five of the eight articles have been settled, it was stated. Commissar Karakhan, Russian plenipotentiary, is expected to give up the soviet's heretofore inconsistent demand for immediate evacuation by Japan of Saghalien.

TOKIO, Oct. 1.—Foreign Minister Shidehara today announced that "Japan has no intention of submitting the American immigration problem to the League of Nations for adjudication," in an interview with International News Service.

"Japan's objection to the original arbitration protocol at the Geneva conference was a matter of principle," Shidehara said. "The League was created to minimize the chances of war. If this aim is ideally realized, league competency should be a matter of principle be extended to all varieties of differences between nations."

No Ulterior Motive
"Our stand was not at all inspired by the ulterior intention of lining up the world's nations against America in connection with the enactment of Japanese exclusion provisions of the immigration law."

The foreign office has not as yet received the details of the compromise effected at the league meeting, although unofficial accounts of the amendment appearing in the local press were received so favorably that approval of the draft is expected.

Argentinian Flyer To Brave Death In Pacific Ocean Hop

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1.—Undaunted by the prospect of the severest weather of his around the world flight, Major Zanni, Argentinian flyer, today announced his determination to cross the northern Pacific in spite of warnings that the Pacific hop at this time of the year would be well nigh impossible.

"It may be suicide," he said today in an interview with International News Service, "but I'll try anyway. I would rather die than return to Buenos Aires without doing my utmost to finish the flight."

Major Zanni showed no bad effects from his narrow escape from drowning at Hongkong. He declared his plane was functioning perfectly and that he would probably leave Shanghai for Kagoshima early Friday morning, spending Thursday making minor repairs on his ship.

DEATH TOLL REACHES 12 IN STORM

Flood Damages Hundreds of Homes and Causes Big Property Loss

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—Nine persons dead, hundreds of homes damaged, mines filled with water, bridges washed away and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed was the toll of the fierce wind and rain storm which swept eastern Pennsylvania for eight hours before spending its final fury last night.

Three Lose Lives
SYRACUSE, Oct. 1.—Three are known dead, a train wrecked by a washout, dozens of narrow escapes and heroic rescues, bridges swept away and property damage running well into the hundreds of thousands, was the record of loss being compiled here today as a result of drenching rains which swept central and southern and northern New York since Saturday.

BIG COOLIDGE VICTORY IN SOUTHLAND IS SEEN

David Lawrence Predicts President to Receive Majority Support

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.
David Lawrence, president of the Consolidated Press association which serves The Glendale Evening News, and acclaimed as the foremost political writer in the United States, paid a visit to Los Angeles yesterday.

This writer spent more than an hour with Mr. Lawrence at the Hotel Alexandria, getting his viewpoint on the coming national election. To quote him would be quite unfair, in view of the fact that he writes his observations for The Glendale Evening News.

But it does appear that the present campaign is a second-rate affair. The issues on all sides are being forced. There is no economic demand for a great change in governmental affairs. Neither is there cause for unjust attacks or bombastic arguments engaged in by the various candidates.

Further, the people are not overly disturbed. Indeed, the California public is becoming quite conservative in the views of Mr. Lawrence in the following article.

Dawes May Reply to Brookhart in Speech
CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—A reply to Senator Smith W. Brookhart's demand for his resignation as Republican vice-presidential candidate, probably will be made by General Charles Gates Dawes in his address at Kansas City tomorrow night, the nominee indicated here today. He refused to discuss the Brookhart letter today except to say:

EDITORIAL People Show They Are Anxious To See Actual Work On Sewer System

Although only two propositions carried at yesterday's election, the people of Glendale who are extremely anxious for improvements to be made should not be discouraged. Less than a year ago a vote of the citizens of Glendale asked that $1,600,000 be spent for installing a sewer system and putting in a connection with Los Angeles sewer outlet.

The actual work on this great project has not been started yet, and while everything is favorable for the installation and completion of the sewer system, there are those of our citizens who want to see active work on this much needed betterment before they vote for further improvement bonds.

The people of Glendale are all right, but they should not be hurried too much on these big projects. Do not load down bond issues with too many propositions. Take up the worthy and much needed ones first, but do not do that until the sewer is well on its way to completion.

By all means keep in touch with the wishes of the rank and file of the people. Well meaning committees sometimes become so enthusiastic that their desires get in advance of what the people really want. Glendale is all right and no one should become discouraged at the result of yesterday's election.

Civic Center Cannot Come Before Voters At November Election, Predicts Official

Some supporters of the civic center, which met defeat in yesterday's election, failing to receive a two-thirds majority in all but four of the twenty precincts, are today suggesting the question be put up for a vote at the general election in November. But—

The death knell of the civic center and the other seven projects which failed to secure a two-thirds majority in the special election yesterday, has been sounded as far as the general election on November 4 is concerned, City Attorney Ray Morrow indicated today.

CIVIC CENTER PLAN FAILS TO RECEIVE TWO-THIRD MAJORITY

Both of Park Propositions And Water-Bearing Land Lose by Big Vote

Of the ten bond issues submitted to the residents of Glendale yesterday at a special election, the stamp of approval was placed on two issues, while the remaining eight were defeated when the necessary two-thirds majority to carry them fell short, according to semi-official figures tabulated by The Glendale Evening News.

The two propositions which carried are:

- No. 1, Additional fire stations and fire fighting equipment, to cost $60,000.
- No. 10, Modern garbage disposal plant for Glendale, to cost $50,000.

The vote was light in all of the twenty consolidated precincts. The books of A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, show 13,500 registered voters in Glendale who were eligible to vote in yesterday's special election, while the tabulation by The Glendale Evening News shows only 4,834 votes were cast, or a fraction less than 36 per cent.

Civic Center Loses
The "big" issue of the election, over which the bitterest fight was waged, Proposition No. 4, the Civic Center, was defeated when the returns showed that the bond issue fell short about 300 in getting the needed two-thirds majority.

When the half way mark had been reached last night—returns from ten of the twenty precincts—it was evident that the civic center proposition would not carry, and as the remaining precincts sent in reports, the figures fluctuated a little, but the result was no longer in doubt.

Council Minutes

Minutes of the Glendale City Council, prepared by city clerk

Following are the minutes of the Glendale City Council in session September 30, as prepared by the city clerk:

Council assembled at 10 o'clock a. m. All members present. Minutes of September 18th, September 25th and special meeting of September 27th, read and approved.

Continued Hearing
This being the time set for continued hearing on appeals from the determination of the superintendent of streets in making his assessment, warrant and diagram, covering the costs and expenses for the improvement of certain alleys, portions of Orange street, Central avenue, Maryland avenue, Harvard street, Wilson avenue, Brand boulevard and a certain right-of-way in accordance with Resolution of Intention No. 2517, adopted on the 12th day of July, 1923, clerk reported that he had received protests against said appeal and there were protestants present. Moved by Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, that hearing be continued until October 16th at which time the high school board was requested to be present.

American Legion
A letter from the American Legion, requesting cooperation in planning a program on Armistice Day, November 11, was read. Moved by Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, that Chief of Police Fraser be instructed to represent the city administration at meeting of the Legion on Tuesday night, October 7, and city clerk instructed to notify the Legion to this effect.

Commercial District
Petition signed by property owners, asking that Broadway from Olive street to east city limits be set aside as commercial

Improve Alley
Petition, signed by property owners, requesting that alley north of Broadway from San Fernando road to Concord, be improved was read. Same having been referred to the city engineer for checking was returned showing 89 per cent. Moved by Councilman Hill, seconded by Councilman Davis, duly carried, that city attorney and city engineer draft the necessary proceedings.

Building Superintendent
Moved by Councilman Gilhuly, seconded by Councilman Davis, that the expenses of the building superintendent incurred in attending the League of California Municipalities convention be allowed by the city.

Recommendation to Engineer
Moved by Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Hall, that city engineer be instructed not to recommend any bid on paving, if there has been only one bid received, providing that attention of the council has not been called to this fact.

Pacific Electric Crossing
Moved by Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Hall, that the Pacific Electric Railway Co. be requested to build a grade crossing at the intersection of its tracks on Brand boulevard with Palmer avenue.

Appoint Commissioners
The office of commissioner of public safety, having been vacated by resignation of Councilman Gilhuly, the mayor appointed Councilman Gilhuly as commissioner of public safety.

Transfer of Funds
Moved by Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Davis, that the sum of $11 be transferred from the unappropriated reserve for the purchase of that portion of Lot 9, Tract No. 282, sold to the city of Glendale for delinquent assessment for the widening and laying out of Mariposa street as contemplated by Ordinance No. 534.

Demand
Moved by Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Davis, that demand of J. D. Fraser in the sum of $16.50 covering his expenses in attending the Police Officers Protective association convention at Avalon, was allowed and ordered paid.

Ordinance Offered
Councilman Kimlin introduced an ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance abolishing proceedings for the opening, widening and laying out of Chestnut street under Ordinance of Intention No. 562 of the city of Glendale," which was read and laid on the table.

Resolutions Adopted
City engineer reported the bid of E. L. Fleming as the lowest responsible bidder for the improvement of portions of Rock Glen avenue, Lincoln avenue and Maple street in the city of Glendale.

City engineer reported the bid of E. L. Fleming as the lowest responsible bidder for the improvement of Western avenue, Hale street, Flower street, Lake street and Victory boulevard.

Councilman Gilhuly introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale awarding the contract for the improvement of portions of Rock Glen avenue, Lincoln avenue and Maple street in the city of Glendale," which was read, and on his motion seconded by Councilman Davis, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2608 and adopted.

Contract
Moved by Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Hall, that the following resolution be adopted: "RESOLVED: By the council of the city of Glendale that the mayor be and he hereby is instructed to execute in duplicate on behalf of the city of Glendale that certain agreement between the city of Glendale and the Glendale Humane Society, a corporation, dated the 30th day of September, 1924, by the terms of which the Glendale Humane Society agrees to confine, dispose of, and/or treat any and all cats, dogs or other small domesticated animals delivered to the Glendale Humane Society by the city of Glendale for a consideration of $150 per month, and the city clerk is hereby instructed to attest the name and affix the official seal of the city of Glendale thereto."

Moved by Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Hall, duly carried, that meeting be adjourned.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Oct. 1.—B. W. Marks has offered to "swap" parks with the City Trustees. This somewhat unusual proposal has been taken seriously by the "city fathers" and Mayor J. C. Crawford, Trustee E. J. Jackson and City Engineer A. J. Rose have the offer under advisement with Miss Octavia Leseur and Messrs. Kittenger and Gibbs of the Park commission.

The proposal in brief is that the city turn over to the Benmar Hills interests the present Stough park, and accept in exchange a tract of land in Benmar Hills.

The above officials are non-committal as to their conclusions, excepting that they report the proposed park is a pretty one. However, the members of the Board of Trustees who were in the party that looked over the tract, are not ready to act on the exchange proposition until their colleagues have had an opportunity to go over the park and get a first hand view of the land themselves. And the Park commission will not take any action, they state, until they are asked to act upon it by the Board of Trustees.

Several Grand lodge officers were present last night at the Knights of Pythias meeting held at 327 East San Fernando boulevard. The get-together was for the purpose of organizing a K. of P. lodge in Burbank and drew a large audience of Knights and prospective initiates.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Oct. 1.—Children from now on will have to go to school every day of the school year, unless actually ill, states C. W. Preston, principal of the Eagle Rock school. A ruling under the state law goes into effect today, making it no longer permissible for parents to hold their children out of school for parties, trips or similar unnecessary infractions of school attendance.

As all parents of this community have received notices to this effect, Mr. Preston anticipates that from now on the daily average attendance will be greater than in the past. The attendance prize recently offered by the local P.-T. A. was won by Miss Artz's class.

When picnics and parties are planned, and other matters arise wherein the teacher finds it necessary to consult the home side of the child's training, the "room mother" is the one who is called into action. At the last meeting of the Eagle Rock P.-T. A., although a number of others were absent, Mrs. J. C. Reiter, President, named the following for "room mother" days:

Kindergarten — Mrs. Kilpatrick.
B-1—Mrs. Ralph Bourne.
B-1 and A-1—Mrs. Peabody.
A-1 and B-2—Mrs. S. Murfey.
B-2—Mrs. Agnes Stevens.

B-8—Mrs. McClintic.
B-8—Mrs. Grace Miller.
A-8—Mrs. W. R. Denman.

Mrs. Bertha Bingham, mother of Mrs. Lillian dePiero, is recovering from the serious injuries she suffered recently when run down by an autoist when crossing a boulevard in Hollywood. She has been removed from the Clara Barton hospital to the Hollywood hospital and is slowly regaining her strength.

F. E. Prindle of Rock Glenn avenue has just returned from a six weeks' business and pleasure trip to his old home in the Berkshire hills of Massachusetts. Mr. Prindle toured Vermont along Lake Champlain and visited many historical spots. He reports having had great sport fishing for brook trout and going huckle-berrying in the mountains.

CRUELTY IS CHARGED

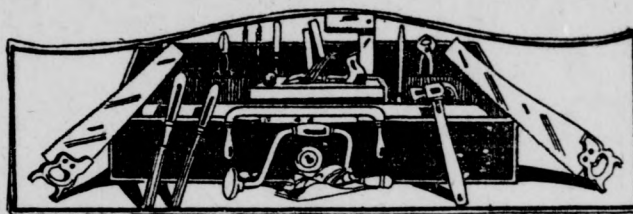

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—Beaten and dragged from bed by her husband at 1 o'clock in the morning and then ejected from her home, according to her charges, Mrs. Nellie Schreiner, policewoman, was awarded $50 a month temporary alimony by Judge Walter Guerin in connection with her suit for divorce against Frank C. Schreiner. Mrs. Schreiner alleged in her complaint that her husband hit her with his fists until her face was discolored, and also hit her with the butt of a pistol so hard that she carried the marks for several days.

TRANSFER BRANCH

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1.—Transference of the division of subtropical horticulture of the University of California from Berkeley to the southern branch of the state university at Los Angeles is requested in a letter filed with the board of regents by the Los Angeles chamber of commerce. The effort to force this action will be made before the board of regents at its next meeting by the southern city's representatives.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE SCHOOL ATTRACTS LARGE AUDIENCE

Mrs. Florence Austin Chase Pleases Women With Suggestions On Better Homes and Foods; Free Prizes Daily

"It takes intelligence to run the home, just as it does in any other business," was the emphatic declaration made yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, better homes and better foods expert, meeting the 300 or more Glendale women at the second session of the school she is conducting under the auspices of The Glendale Evening News in Hahn's auditorium.

Throughout her talk Mrs. Chase emphasized the need for women to love their work in the home. Of cooking she gave this worth while thought: "Cooking is just the continuance of nature's ripening process. We prepare foods to make them more tasty and digestible."

STOVE'S FEATURES TO BE SHOWN COOKING SCHOOL

Domestic Science Expert to Use Prominent Range Tomorrow in Offering Hints on Better Homes and Better Foods

In these days of hurry and bustle and modern business, the average American and his family rarely take enough time for anything, declares S. F. Bell of the Wilson-Bell Hardware Co., 227 North Brand boulevard. This is particularly true of the family meals—it's eat and run.

"It naturally follows then, that the equipment of the kitchen must lend every assistance for cooking efficiency. The Quick Meal gas range, one of the oldest on the market and manufactured by the Quick Meal Stove Co. of St. Louis, Mo., is a range that can be thoroughly depended upon to fulfill this need in any kitchen," he said.

 Just how the Quick Meal is operated, and what its many advantages are, will be shown by Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, at tomorrow's session of The Glendale Evening News Better Homes, Better Foods school now being conducted at Hahn's auditorium.

"We Deliver"

Taking the "Die" Out of Diet

By C. H. Woodward

Waste!

The American people are spending more than $500,000,000 a year for drugs to overcome the effects of their diet!

Think what a Reduction that would make in the Cost of Living, if it alone were eliminated!

Think what an Increase in Earning power would result if the Cause of that Drug Bill were eliminated!

Think of the Misery and Suffering that could be Avoided if that Drug Bill were made unnecessary!

And it IS unnecessary!

The Reason

It is the direct Outgrowth of Unnatural Food—food that has been Ignorantly Denatured or made Unnatural.

Man can no more be Normal when he tries to sustain his life without Natural Food than he could if he tried to live without Natural Sleep, or Natural Air, or Natural Water, or Natural Exercise.

The Chemistry of Natural Food is exactly what our bodies require, and when we change that Chemistry, trouble is certain to result.

Warning Signs

Every Defective Tooth is Proof of the folly of using Denatured Food. Every case of Constipation is Directly related to Denatured Food. Every case of Goitre, or Asthma, or Rheumatism, or Neuritis, or Stomach Ulcer, or Tuberculosis, or Cancer, or any of the other manifestations of disease, can be traced to Denatured Food, Denatured Air, Denatured Water, or Violence.

The Way Out

"The two Chief causes of disease and death are Food and Drink," is the verdict of the internationally famous Doctors McCarrison and Hindhede.

Here is Information as to how you can step out of the "diet-drug" class and become a Natural, Normal, Healthy, Happy creature; how you can take the "die" out of your diet.

Every Denatured natural food substance has had the balanced relation of the elements it contains Upset and Destroyed. The Poisonous Effect is just as Certain, though not so Quick Acting, as if you take a Teaspoonful of Iodine, but being less powerful, may to a considerable extent be neutralized by the body, but the Accumulated Effects of the taking into the body of Denatured Food result in what we call Disease.

Important Facts

Did you know that only in a drop of Normal, Healthy Blood, a handful of Fertile Earth, and a natural grain of Wheat, are to be found the 16 elements of which Every Living Creature is composed?

Food is Denatured when some element or part of an element is Removed or Lost. It may be through Milling, Refining, or through Cooking in the Presence of the Oxygen of the air, which results in Changing the minerals from their Organic form into Oxides. This is one of the Greatest Discoveries of modern times.

Whole Grain Wheat

Whole Grain Wheat is the First Cooked Food civilized man ever ate that has Not Been Denatured.

tured in Cooking, and is without doubt one of the Epoch-Making Discoveries of the age.

It is the Natural Wheat Berry just as it comes from the harvest field, with Nothing Lost, and Nothing Taken Away, cooked under a New Method of Cooking that is protected by the United States and Canadian governments, and is the First Wheat that has ever been Cooked Ready to Eat that is Identical with the raw, ripe grain in its Constituent Elements. It possesses the Minerals and the Vitamins possessed by the natural grains, and is Delicious and Sweet as a Nut.

NOT A "CURE-ALL" Nature's Best Food

Whole Grain Wheat is not a medicine, nor in any sense a "cure-all"; it is Merely a Natural

A Physician's Testimony

California Food and Health Clinic, Los Angeles, California. Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 21, 1924.

Dear Sirs: I was much impressed with the open letter recently contributed by Mr. Strong of Long Beach. As a Los Angeles physician interested in the health of this community, I wish to add my experience with Whole Grain Wheat that others may read and profit.

After having completed my regular professional training and being under the strain of a heavy practice for a number of years, my health collapsed and I became a physical and nervous wreck. Unable to continue my extensive practice, I searched for health three long years, visiting many of the foremost physicians of the country. I finally consulted a physician of New York City who had come to realize the vital relation of normal food to normal health, and he advised me making a study of the subject of food. On doing so, I put to a practical test the truths learned from physiological chemists, with the result that my health greatly improved, but not until I came to know Whole Grain Wheat did I experience that degree of vigorous health that I now enjoy.

As a result of eating Whole Grain Wheat, together with other natural foods regularly and consistently for the past twelve months I have lost more than thirty pounds of unhealthy tissue and have gained a degree of health which few possess. I have a vitality and vigor that I had not experienced during the past twenty years. I have health, physically and mentally, and am capable of meeting the duties of life with a hundred per cent fitness.

By eliminating denatured foods from my diet I have abolished that physical and mental inertia which had previously handicapped my activities. Indigestion, poor elimination and auto-intoxication have given place to an increased vitality and vigor that have opened a new era in my life. Many thousands are tied down to mediocrity merely because they lack that vitality and vigorous health so essential to success. The secret of these things is obedience to the simple, unchangeable laws which God has established for our physical well-being.

It is at first difficult to accept the idea that disease may result from a negative factor, as well as, or instead of from a positive one. But the physiological chemists have, during the past few years, conclusively proven that food is the most potent factor in the building and maintenance of health, and they have proven the most universally destructive agent to health to be denatured or abnormal food. And the sooner the members of our profession awaken to this vital fact, and give food first place in our consideration rather than almost a totally negative one, the sooner we will most efficiently build and maintain health for those whom we are serving.

Allow me to congratulate you on the splendid work you are doing in taking to the people of our community this vital message of food in its effect upon health. Permit me to say that I have not found, in food value, the equal of Whole Grain Wheat.

Cordially yours,

D. V. MOORE, M.D., D.O., D.P.H.

Food. Its effects are Wholly Natural and are simply the result of the user's Stopping the Violation of the Law of his Being and Obeying it by affording Replenishment to his blood stream of All the Elements of which the blood is Normally Composed for the production of Normal Life Processes.

Marvelous Results

As confirming the Law of Life and demonstrating the Cause of Disease as set forth herein, more than 74 human ailments have Responded to the use of this Natural Food, these ailments ranging in severity from Constipation to Cancer, and including Palsy, Goitre, Asthma, Diabetes, as well as most of the more common ones, such as Tuberculosis, Stomach Ulcer, High Blood Pressure, Paralysis, Eczema, Nervous Breakdown, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Overweight and Underweight.

It is used and indorsed by doctors and scientific men of the highest standing.

Reduces Kitchen Work

The use of Whole Grain Wheat Reduces Cooking. It both Saves Drudgery in the Kitchen and makes one Feel Better in Every Way.

Regular Use Important

But remember, you cannot get best results unless you do right things regularly. Whole Grain Wheat should be eaten regularly to appreciate it fully. You do not tire of bread, nor will you tire of Whole Grain Wheat.

Where Obtainable

Whole Grain Wheat is available in Glendale only through the Glendale Food & Health Clinic, 121 South Orange street. In cases of one dozen tins, (sufficient for twenty-four days for one person) at $2.25, or in cases of four dozen tins at $8.30. Delivered. Glendale readers telephone orders to Glendale 2266-M or call at our office between 8:30 and 5:30 any day.

Warning

Do not confuse home cooked wheat with Whole Grain Wheat. Mrs. Bradley, of Montrose, states that after eating two dozen cans of Whole Grain Wheat and being cured of chronic constipation and neuritis, she tried cooking some of the whole grains of wheat herself and her neuritis and constipation returned, but as soon as she returned to eating Whole Grain Wheat she was completely relieved; showing that the preparation of the whole grain of wheat by cooking in a fireless cooker, pressure cooker or in any open or closed vessel changes the chemical elements and their relationship to such an extent that the wheat is no longer a perfect food.

Visit Our Booth

We are maintaining a booth at Mrs. Chase's better food and homes school at Hahn's Auditorium, where we hope we may be of service to you. We are not merely selling food, but building health and saving lives. Talk with us about what you are eating and what you should eat.

Save Three Ways

Cut off your cost of inefficiency; cut out your cost of ill health; and cut down your cost of food, for it is guaranteed to reduce your food and grocery bill 25% to 50% when eaten twice daily. Eat Whole Grain Wheat for replenishment.

Use it and see; our guarantee protects you.

OUR CHALLENGE

We challenge any man or woman, well or sick, to use WHOLE GRAIN WHEAT twice a day for twenty-four days and not confess a definite and distinct all around improvement, physically and mentally—mentally, mind you, too. We'll go further and contract to return the price you have paid, without argument, if after using the case on the basis of twice a day the user has the slightest doubt of his or her mental and physical improvement. This is a guarantee to the world—to any body, anywhere.

Is a good antidote for the divorce menace in a home.
Is a young man's best recommendation.
Is needed more than a change in national administration.
Costs nothing more than self-control.

REGISTER TODAY

Those who have not registered since January 1 have but three days left to do so in order to vote at the presidential election. It will take but a few minutes of your time to register. The Glendale Evening News has a deputy on duty in the office (the three-story building at 139 South Brand Blvd.) for your convenience.

It is of no use to feel disgruntled and say there is no choice between the candidates; that you do not wish to vote for any of them. Even if conditions are as bad as you think they will never improve until the great mass of people, including you, are interested in making them better. As long as the people don't care, selfish politicians are going to make the most of the situation.

If, as some charge, special privilege and political demagogues have the upper hand in all the parties it is because the rank and file of the voters have allowed them to get it and they will keep the upper hand as long as the people are not sufficiently interested to vote.

The selfish politician is a menace to government, but so is the selfish citizen, the one who considers it too much trouble to register and vote.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald voiced the thought of millions of people, not only in England but everywhere when he said, "I sometimes get sick and tired of party politics. I get sick and tired of that method of controversy which is dishonest and which people of all parties indulge in knowing very often that it is dishonest. The only way the state can be guided in safety through its difficult days is for men of different views and diverse conceptions to put the honor and reputation of their state first, and everything else afterward."

Such ideals of citizenship are to be devoutly wished for not only for politicians alone but for all citizens.

AIR MAIL FOR SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The efforts of those who are trying to induce the postoffice department to establish an air mail service between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City to connect with the service now in operation between San Francisco and New York, should receive the encouragement of Southern California as a whole. It means a great deal to have this rapid and inexpensive method of communication with the east and there is no reason why this section of the state should be discriminated against. At present air mail from here must go to San Francisco by train which adds considerably to the thirty-two hour service which prevails between San Francisco and New York.

This first air mail route is 3000 miles long. It is a modernization of the pony express. These winged horses of the air, like the ponies of the olden days, have relays waiting at convenient distances so that no flier and no machine need remain in the air more than four hours. Thirty-two hours are consumed in the eastward journey, but thirty-six are required for the west-bound trip, which means sailing against the wind.

Postoffice regulations provide that if blizzards or other exceptional conditions interfere with the air mail service, the mail is to be forwarded by train. Sealed packages up to fifty pounds are accepted for transport. A regular tariff by zones has been worked out, and when the service is considered, the charges are very reasonable. Letters are carried for 24 cents an ounce, which means that for 22 cents extra a communication may be conveyed in half the time taken by the regular mail between the coasts. One mail plane can carry upwards of twenty thousands of letters.

The air mail is justifying itself in a business way. It should be used and encouraged. The postoffice department has no special appropriation for the air mail service, so that its continuation and its expansion is contingent upon its widespread use.

MANAGING THE HOME

The more a woman knows about housekeeping, home management, food values and the preparation of food the more she wants to learn. This is evident from the class of women who are attending the school of Domestic Science and Home Management being conducted by Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, a woman of national reputation as an expert along these lines, under the auspices of The Glendale Evening News.

The more a woman learns about the job of housekeeping the easier her work becomes, and she seeks contact with other women in order to learn. Even the veriest novices among housekeepers can give each other little hints that make the housework easier and more pleasant. How much more, then, may be learned from a woman like Mrs. Chase who has made it her life work to teach housewives to be more capable and efficient and give them more leisure for rest, recreation and self-improvement.

The housework used to consume all of a woman's time from dawn until dark. Now the market is full of articles and appliances to make her work easier and her day shorter, and women who have made a study of the subject are telling her of better and easier ways to do things. But the efficient housekeeper is never satisfied. She is constantly looking for shortcuts and better methods in the management of her home.

WITHOUT SIN

Is there such a thing as being too good? No, but we can easily be too sure of our own virtue and put too much stress upon it. This feeling that we are entirely righteous ourselves usually has the effect of making us see very clearly the faults of others. Sinlessness seems to make the detection of sin very easy.

A certain very good woman made herself obnoxious telling other people of their shortcomings. Her intentions were of the best. She hoped to correct the faults of others by pointing them out, but she was so militant that she defeated her own purpose. Her attitude and her motto was, "I make no compromise with sin." A man who knew her well said of her, "That woman has kept more people out of the kingdom of heaven than the greatest sinner ever did."

It must be very satisfying to be without sin, although it is written, "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us." But one who feels himself to be sinful can more righteously and lovingly judge the sinner and help him to overcome his sin. It is easier to lift others up if we first get down where they are.

White Spats

By DR. FRANK CRANE

In the United States white spats are a sign of the effettist. It seems to be different in London. "You have no idea what a big trade the second-hand dealers did," said Jacob H. Hopkins, judge of the superior court of Chicago, in Paris the other day, "lending out top hats and dress suits, and, above all, white spats, to the lawyers who came over from the big and little towns of America, eastern and western. It took me a terrible time to get spats on and looking right, and as though it were not a dress rehearsal for some play with a Piccadilly background. There is, as I know, only one man in Chicago who wears spats as they should be worn, and that man is ex-Senator Hamilton Lewis.

"The peddlers were very enterprising. They had a great poster up in the Savoy hotel with suggestions as to how one should dress, for members of the American Bar association. They cleaned up over $10 for less than a couple of days' hiring on each outfit."

He added that it would have been a priceless sight to have seen some of our attorney friends walking down Chicago's main boulevard in spats, a topper and the usual paraphernalia of the requested morning dress.

London seems to be strong on form, while America is not so insistent. The judge said that he had a wonderful time in London, but it was a strain on one to have to change one's clothes three times a day.

If there is any one thing that the west seems to think characteristic of the east, and of the due of the east, it is white spats or spats of any kind. It will be a long time before the custom is much in favor in America.

However, it is not so absurd as the custom of wearing the tall hat, which is indulged by all men on parade from the president of the United States down. If a man is to be clothed in some peculiar garment to indicate that he belongs to the leisure class, it is quite as reasonable for him to wear spats as to wear the plug hat.

Horoscope

Uranus in benefic aspect dominates this day, according to astrology. Saturn is adverse.

For this first day of the month the planetary influences give promise of much business activity and a better feeling in the commercial world.

It is a most auspicious day for traveling, removing or seeking distant business affiliations.

Traveling salesmen should find this a lucky date on which to start tours, and they should not be afraid to get away from old methods of obtaining customers.

Uranus is in a place supposed to impart clear vision and to encourage understanding.

The rule is exceedingly good for conventional and conservative persons whose foresight should be most trustworthy at this time.

All who have political vision should discern today signs making for more surprises in the national campaign.

Diplomatic blunders again loom large on the horizon and it will be wise for the United States to be especially careful in one quarter.

Railways should benefit under this direction of the stars, which appears to indicate a heavy foreign business.

Danger of riots is again foretold, for there are sinister aspects making for bitter dissensions in which labor and religious questions are involved.

Months ago astrologers foretold the movement of troops this month, and they now call attention to the fact that even a day that demonstrates preparedness policies may have back of it an ultimate not recognized by average minds.

Uranus is in a place that has great significance and is read as presaging dissensions within political party lines which will be of grave consequence.

Persons whose birthdate it is may expect a successful year in which they have pleasant changes. Those who are employed should be particularly lucky.

Children born on this day may be restless and easily bored. These subjects of Libra are often successful in speculative business. They should be clever and long-lived.

SYMPTOMS
"Pardon me, professor, but last night your daughter accepted my proposal of marriage. I have called this morning to ask if there is any insanity in your family."

"There must be."

Today's Poem

A VAGABOND SONG

There is something in the autumn that is native to my blood—
Touch of manner, hint of mood;
And my heart is like a rhyme,
With the yellow and the purple
And the crimson keeping time.

The scarlet of the maples can shake me like a cry
Of bugles going by.
And my lonely spirit thrills
To see the frosty asters like a smoke upon the hills.

There is something in October sets
the gipsy blood astir;
We must rise and follow her,
When from every hill of flame
She calls and calls each vagabond
by name. —Bliss Carmen.

FISH THAT GOT AWAY
They were telling fishing stories and at last the silent member of the corner spoke.

"Once," he said, "I went after a fish that no ordinary line was any use. At last I tried three-inch rope and hooked him. He was too strong for me to land, so I tied the rope around an old oak tree in a field while I went for help. When I got back the fish had gone."

"Pulled up the tree, I suppose?" put in another man, sarcastically.

"More than that," went on the other. "The roots of that oak were so wide and deep that it took the whole field as well. It's a quarry now!"

Who's Who

The election of Thomas W. Miller as president of the Federation of Inter-Allied War Veterans, was proposed by French members of the federation. His nomination was seconded by Italian veterans. Which truly makes his election an international affair.

As president of the organization Miller becomes head of approximately 10,000,000 war veterans.

Miller is now alien property custodian, directing the handling of seized property in all parts of the United States and territories. He has held the post since 1921, having been appointed by the late President Harding.

He is an ex-congressman, having served from Delaware, his home state, from 1915 to 1917. When the war came Miller enlisted in the infantry as a private, served eleven months, won several citations for gallantry in action and emerged a lieutenant colonel.

He was one of the incorporators of the American Legion.

Making Presidents

By H. Irving King

IN 1812 Madison ran for a second term, being formally nominated by a Republican congressional caucus, the Federal party had so completely gone to smash that it did not even attempt to put forward a candidate of its own. All it could do was to cause as much annoyance to the Republican party as possible. The New York Republicans had declined to attend the caucus which nominated Madison for his second term and had brought out DeWitt Clinton as his competitor—a party split. Madison was nominated in May, and the same month saw the nomination of Clinton by a New York legislative caucus. In September a conference of the leaders of the Federalist party in the various states was called to meet in New York. Eleven states sent delegates. This may fairly be considered the first national political convention ever held. By it DeWitt Clinton, the rabid Republican, was endorsed as the federalist candidate for president, and Jared Ingersoll of Pennsylvania, a mild Federalist, was nominated for vice-president. DeWitt Clinton was a nephew of Vice-President George Clinton, who had recently died in office. He was a lawyer and a politician; had been United States senator from New York, mayor of New York City and lieutenant governor. He now aspired to that high office which he felt should have been his uncle's. But it was the fact that, later on, he was the father of the Erie canal that has preserved DeWitt Clinton's name to posterity, and not his political career.

Jared Ingersoll was a Connecticut man by birth who studied law in England and practiced law in Philadelphia. He had been a member of the Constitutional convention; had been a friend of Franklin and Ralph Izard. His nomination was an intensely respectable one—and that's all that can be said of it.

Elbridge Gerry, the "Signer," was the Republican nominee for vice-president. The nomination was first given to John Langdon, who beat Gerry in the caucus, but Langdon declined. When it came to a vote of the electoral college, Madison got 128 votes and Clinton 89. For vice-president Gerry received 131 and Ingersoll 86. It will be seen that Madison won under the old system would have been president and Madison vice-president. As yet there was nothing like a tangible popular vote. Strange to say, the idea of having electors chosen by popular suffrage instead of being appointed by the state legislatures seems to have fallen into disfavor; some of the states which had tried the former method now reverted to the latter.

Announces Cast for Opening Play Tonight

Everything is in readiness for the initial curtain which will mark the Glendale debut of the Robinson Players tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon Clubhouse, when "A Prince There Was," George Cohan's hilarious comedy, will be presented. The members of the cast, and the roles they will portray, follow:

Charles Martin, a prince of a fellow who had too much money to be happy until he gave some of it away, John Vosburgh. Jack Carruthers, the aspiring editor of a magazine who got some of the Prince's money and was able to develop his plan, William H. Stephens. Miss Wood, a writer of delightful stories which she sold to the Prince in exchange for his heart, Gertrude Keller. Mr. Cric-kett, the tired old lawyer whose very best article the Prince managed to sell, George C. Pearce. Mr. Short, an extra in moviedom, Richard Ehlers. Mrs. Prouty, a keeper of a boarding house where all these people lived, Thyra Ruhland. Gladys, her daughter, filling a responsible position in the ribbon department of a big store, Mary Isabelle Alpaugh. Miss Vincent, who has a position in the same department store but takes things much more calmly, Gertrude Roth. Comfort, the twelve-year-old whose father and mother are both in heaven and who lives at the Prince, Gray. Bland, valet to the Prince, who knew all the time everything would come out all right, Carrol Nye. Eddie, the office boy in Mr. Carruthers' office who shows in everybody, Harry Glazier.

Mission Is Scene of Gayety and Activity

Preparations are completed at San Juan Capistrano for the staging of "The Mission Pageant of San Juan Capistrano" within the mission walls Saturday and Sunday afternoon, October 4 and 5, according to an announcement today by Garnet Holme, pageant director of national parks, who is in charge of the production. Nearly 100 of the Southland's leading actors and actresses have been assigned parts and put in many days rehearsing.

San Juan Capistrano, itself, has taken on gala dress. Spanish cañilleros, garbed in saucy eon outfits, sink about the old mission town inhaling from slow-burning Mexican cigarettes. Dash-ers scurries with shawls over their shoulders cast winning smiles at the motorists who speed through to or from Santa Ana on the El Camino Real. The people of the town have donned pirate dress to lend atmosphere to the staging of the pageant, which is to be produced the first time Saturday, October 4, at 2:30. One of the episodes has to do with the visit of a South American buccaneer, and the attire of the missionites has been taken from this episode. The pageant is to be given every Saturday and Sunday afternoon in October.

While trying to show friends how movie "stunts" are performed on a windmill, a Kilwinning, Scotland, man was hurled to death when his jacket was caught on a fan blade as the fan revolved, whirling his body round and round.

When Your Earning Power Decreases Will Your Income Increase?

Now is the time to make sure that your income will actually be higher when your earning ability is lower. No one of us can indefinitely maintain our income by our regular daily efforts. Who wants to, anyway—if there is even a spark of ambition?

The Answer

The way is open—it has been clearly marked by countless thousands from every walk of life.

Save and invest—regularly and systematically—regardless of the amount of your present earnings. Put a part away each month in some good, safe investment.

Don't do any speculating with this fund. Invest it at the best rate of interest obtainable—with ample safety.

The Gibraltar Finance Corporation offers that very type of investment. It meets those requirements of safety, and the Preferred Stock receives 8% per annum interest. In addition, there is the opportunity for real profit in the Common Stock. This is a point that means a lot to everybody.

Here's an Easy Method

You can invest in the Gibraltar Finance Corporation in partial payments, which makes it easy to save every month. Almost before you know it, you have accumulated a sizeable fund that will work for you—24 hours every day in the year.

Southern California's Need Is Your Opportunity

The development of this community, which is familiar to you, has caused the urgent need of additional capital to finance home building. That is why this Corporation has been organized. By investing in it you will profit directly in Southern California's development.

The officers have invested their own money. They are experienced judges of realty values and financial methods who have sensed the opportunity. They invite you to share it with them.

Your First Step

Frankly, the coupon is not a magic wand to bring you untold riches, but it will bring to you complete information about the situation, the Corporation and the details of the Partial Payment Plan that will help you to make your income increase. You are entitled to this data. Send for it—now—there is no obligation, of course.

Do you know that —the surest way to escape financial worries later on is to invest now?

—you can invest regularly, as you earn, with our Partial Payment Plan?

—the coupon will tell you all about it—without obligation.

RETURN ALL METHODIST PASTORS

No Change by Conference
For Glendale; Dr. H. I. Rasmus to Retire

Glendale is to retain all Methodist ministers according to information from the Southern California Methodist conference, just closed at Santa Barbara. This means that all local ministers were returned to their local pastorates with the exception of Dr. H. I. Rasmus, who has retired from thirty-nine active years in the Methodist ministry, and will take up his residence at 425 East Elk street.

Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris comes from the First Methodist church in San Diego to succeed Dr. Rasmus. Dr. Rasmus' son, Rev. H. I. Rasmus, Jr., is to continue as superintendent of religious education, with Dr. Ferris.

Active in Church

Dr. Rasmus has won countless friends in Glendale and it is with happiness that they will learn of his desire to reside in Glendale. He has been a minister in the Southern California conference for fourteen years. Previous to that time he was a minister in the Columbia River conference, serving a church in Spokane.

Rev. Leo C. Kline was returned to the Central Avenue Methodist church; Rev. H. C. Mullen to the Pacific Avenue Methodist church, and Rev. J. C. Livingston to the Casa Verdugo Methodist church. Announcement of their return will bring happiness to their congregations.

Predicts Southland to Give Coolidge Support

The writer came away with the impression that the Wisconsin leader would perhaps carry the bay counties by a narrow vote, but, if that turns out to be true, Mr. La Follette will be snowed under just the same by the unusually heavy vote to be given President Coolidge this year in Southern California.

The race here is between Coolidge and La Follette with Davis third. Little is heard about the Democratic candidate. Had McAdoo been nominated there might have been a different story to tell, for this state was strong for McAdoo.

Democratic Vote

Are the Democratic votes going to La Follette? Undoubtedly, many thousands will support the third party ticket, but President Coolidge will get a host of what might otherwise be Democratic votes.

The Democratic nominee is always well spoken of, but he does not seem to have any vote-getting strength in this section. President Coolidge, on the other hand, is held in Southern California in almost as much regard as he is in Maine.

This state, of course, is preponderantly Republican, but in the last two years it has also been growing conservative. California, for instance, gave President Coolidge a majority of 50,000 votes over its own favorite son in the presidential primaries this year. A state which will do that can hardly be counted as easy for La Follette or as even tending in his direction.

All Predict Coolidge

Without endeavoring to explain some of the polls that are being made, it is a strange aspect of the whole thing that not a single man whose judgment on political affairs in past years has always been found by the writer to be accurate so far as California is concerned, is saying this time that La Follette will carry the state. They all say just the opposite and some go as far as to indicate that President Coolidge may run as high as 100,000 majority in California.

La Follette's strength in certain sections of the state may be conceded, but any one who knows California will recognize at once that what the northern part of the state may do can easily be counterbalanced by the south.

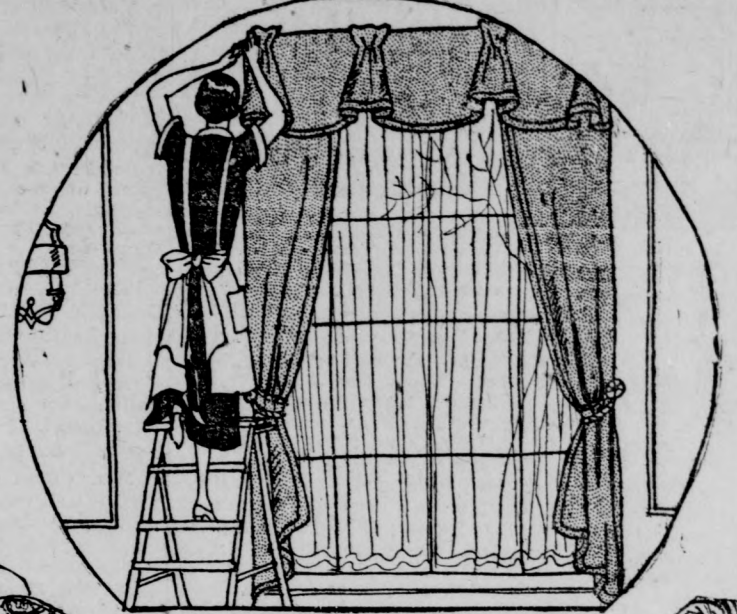

From this it should not be inferred that the writer believes La Follette will sweep Northern California. What seems probable is that the Wisconsin leader will run neck and neck with President Coolidge in and around San Francisco. This, however, isn't a strong enough position for any one who is trying to carry the electoral votes of the state. And as for Southern California, La Follette hasn't a chance. The vote that will be rolled up from this section on election day will be amazing.

There are a dozen reasons for the strength of President Coolidge in this region, but there are many more reasons why La Follette is weak. For one thing, a campaign has been begun which paints La Follette as an enemy of California. A member of Congress has looked back into the record and found that Senator La Follette voted against every one of the tariff schedules in which California was interested. That makes the battle against La Follette very concrete. For even the redoubtable Hiram Johnson in his most progressive hours never dared to turn down California on certain of its native products and industries.

No Need for Change
La Follette, of course, is not

At Sanitarium

Special Correspondence

If you had taken a peep into the sanitarium parlor last evening about 8 o'clock you would have readily seen that something of unusual interest was soon to take place. The room was crowded, not only the seats but standing room being taken as well. After a few vocal selections by Mr. Seat, a co-worker with Elder Knox, an exceedingly interesting lecture on astronomy was given by Pastor Philip Knox, an evangelist of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, now located at Long Beach. He dwelt especially on the solar system, the amount of heat and power received by the earth from the sun. This instructive and profitable evening was closed with a duet by Pastor Knox and Mr. Seat.

We were indeed pleased to have as our guests yesterday Mrs. Winifred Lindsay, director of the Loma Linda and White Memorial Schools of Nursing, and Mrs. Gertrude Brown. Mrs. Brown was formerly from the British Red Cross of England, a social worker at the Battle Creek sanitarium and at the present located at Loma Linda where her husband is a medical student. They both gave lectures while here for the day, and it is the plan that Mrs. Brown is to be with us three times a week giving lectures to the patients.

Among the recent arrivals at the sanitarium is Len Osborne, an attorney from Los Angeles who has entered the sanitarium for treatment and rest.

The hospital department not being able to accommodate the number of patients desiring admittance, six of the convalescents are being transferred to the main building at the sanitarium today.

Grand Time Planned At Big Scot Smoker

Music, mystery and merriment are hinted at in the clever announcement in the hands of Glendale Scots announcing the big smoker affair for Friday night, October 3 in the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard. "Your absence is your loss" is the warning issued to all those who do not attend. Scot J. M. Lowry has given artistic impressions of some of the features in store, the illustrations bearing such captions as "Master of ceremonies, Prof. Dibern"; "Royle Fink and Max supply the eats"; Al Louis handles the entertainment; "Doc Jack, the champagne knife thrower, will oblige by throwing the knives at anyone."

Club Members Propose Scholarship Addition

The addition of possibly $300 to the scholarship fund and the issuance of a year book, were among the plans outlined yesterday at the meeting of the executive board meeting of the Glendale College club at the home of the president, Mrs. Frank Parr, 224 South Orange street. Officers and chairmen were assembled to inaugurate plans for the new year. Chairmen outlined plans and discussion was heard of matters of importance in the administration of club affairs. Following the meeting tea was served by Mrs. Parr.

GIVES AID IN DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Mrs. Florence Austin Chase
Offers Suggestions to Glendale Women

Innovations are being introduced in the management of Glendale homes, by the women who are attending regularly Mrs. Florence Austin Chase's helpful lectures at the Better Homes, Better Foods school in Hahn's auditorium. With but two days left in which to learn the many things they want to know about improving their homes, the women of Glendale have settled down in earnest to attend the Mrs. Florence Austin Chase lectures on Better Foods, Better Homes at the Hahn auditorium.

Mrs. Chase has told them so many things they wanted to know in the past three days that they look upon the coming lectures as of paramount importance, and are going to allow nothing to prevent them from hearing the remaining two talks.

Meat Cutting
In her lectures Mrs. Chase has sounded a note of real service, and attendance at her lectures has now become a matter of business rather than a place to pass an idle afternoon. This was never so apparent as today when women sat through the hours of household talk with as much real interest as if they had been listening to an opera or a play.

An added feature of interest this afternoon was the special meat cutting demonstration made by the Hartman market of 133 South Central. Nearly a half beef was cut, the food value as well as the material worth of each was fully explained.

Attractive Program.
To the woman who prides herself on the nice appointments of her table and the delicacy and daintiness of her dessert tomorrow's program will be most attractive. Mrs. Chase will not only explain the setting of the table and the serving of a dinner course by course, but will show the advantages and usefulness of the buffet and the serving table. She will explain the use of the tea wagon, that popular adjunct to the maidless home.

Decorations for the table and the dishes, linen, silver and all table appointments will be discussed and many a young bride will learn of easier and more attractive ways of setting her table and serving her dinner.

How many know what dishes and silver are on the table at the start of a meal and what should come with the courses. How many know what should be put on the buffet? How many know what should be put on the serving table for a dinner?

Domestic Science Talk
Mrs. Chase will explain all these tomorrow and many more. She will make the women who hear her so proud of their newly gained knowledge that they will not rest until they have put it into practice at once and so improve their homes and their meals better homes and better foods school, was evidenced in the number of new "pupils," who were in attendance.

Yesterday Mrs. Chase had for her use a Direct Action gas stove, equipped with Lorain heat regulator, furnished by Coker & Taylor.

The various exhibits arranged attractively continued to prove popular. Numerous special features in the way of awards are being offered at several of the booths. Carnations were again presented by the Jewel City Plumbing Co. Delicious ice cream was served through the courtesy of E. G. Herring, manager of the Glendale Ice Cream Co.; an artistic booth was arranged by the Brand boulevard nursery; and the Burr Creamery furnished all milk and cream used in cooking by Mrs. Chase.

Right Draperies
Mrs. Chase opened the session with a talk on the right draperies to suit the background she had discussed on Monday. Her talk was illustrated with the latest in draperies from the H. S. Webb Drapery Shop. During the domestic science hour she talked on balanced meals, and demonstrated by the preparation of various dishes, the recipes for which she dictated. She stressed the plan of having a main dish and building around it in the preparation of any meal.

Prize Winners
There were five lovely prizes awarded during the drawing at the close of the session. The awards were as follows: Meat platter, valued at $20, from Cole Jewelry company, won by Mrs. Marion A. Jones, 459 Milford street; order for $10 hat at Nadine's Millinery, won by Ada L. Cannon, 208 East Chestnut street; order for any pair of shoes in Pendroy's store, won by Mrs. M. C. Fuller, 918 Stocker street; large size box of Eaton's linen stationery from Schafe's store, won by E. Witzell, 368 West Arden; $5 order at the Glendale Beauty shop, won by Mrs. W. C. Reiser, 1133 North Louise street.

Announcement was made by A. T. Cowan that two cash prizes of $10 and $5 are to be awarded late this week to the Glendale women writing the most concise, descriptive letters of the exhibits arranged in the hall. The letters are to be written and sent to The Glendale Evening News.

as they never thought possible. In addition there will be one of the best domestic science talks of the series. Pie, that dessert dear to every masculine heart, will be explained in all its delicious variations. A great juicy apple pie will be baked right in front of the audience as will also a cream pie. Numerous pie recipes will be given and discussed.

Moulded desserts will also be gone into and many recipes for those delicate and tempting dishes will be given. Mrs. Chase will demonstrate the use of the molds and all desserts made will be passed for sampling.

The food exhibits will attract as much attention as on previous days, the women finding a satisfaction in "walking around from booth to booth and sampling the food products on display.

Police Nab Suspect In Gateway Market

surrounded and led a squad of police officers into the market, through an open window. After a search, Anderson was found hiding behind some boxes in the balcony. He was held up at the point of a gun and searched, but no weapons were found on him.

No Loot Taken
By this time Mr. Caswell had arrived and declared that the prisoner was unknown to him. An investigation of the inside of the market failed to reveal that anything had been taken. The thief supposedly secreted himself in the market before the close of business yesterday, as no evidence of his breaking in has been found.

It is the opinion of Lieutenant Nunn and Mr. Caswell that he planned to rob the safe of post-office sub-station No. 1, which is located in that store.

Thieves early this morning attempted to break into the Trice Furniture Co. at 118 West Broadway, according to a report phoned to police headquarters by the night watchman. The call came in at 2:45 o'clock and officers were at once sent to the scene but failed to find anyone. This is the second successive night attempts that have been made to enter this store, according to the night watchman.

District Deputy Will Install K. C. Officers

Fred N. Arnoldy of Hollywood, district deputy of the Knights of Columbus, is to serve as installing officer tomorrow night at the meeting of the Glendale council in the clubhouse, 330 East Lomita avenue. Fred H. Huessman, grand knight elect, and his corps of officers will be installed. Following the installation there will be entertainment arranged by Hugh F. Bryan. A surprise feature is promised. Tonight the Knights will give a five hundred party at the clubhouse. George Killinger is chairman. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served.

One or two drops of tincture of iodine will vanquish germs in a quart of unsafe water within 20 to 30 minutes.

Comment

By GIL A. COWAN

With the local bond election out of the way, Glendale may well prepare for the last-minute campaign in behalf of presidential candidates.

As David Lawrence, noted political writer, points out in an article today, James W. Davis, Democratic nominee, is not going to cut a wide swath in California.

Glendale people are hearing a great deal of La Follette, whose electors will appear on the Socialist ticket in this state. The Coolidge campaign is being conducted quietly, but effectively, it would seem, from numerous windshield stickers.

There is no doubt in the writer's mind but what "Silent" Cal will poll the "silent" vote in California, in Los Angeles and in Glendale.

And it is the silent vote over which campaign managers are querulous.

Indeed, it is the silent vote, and those who do not vote that upsets election returns, as witness yesterday's local bond election.

It is imperative that all citizens vote. To do so they must be registered. Including today, there are but four more days in which to register for the coming national election.

If you have not done so, a registrar at the office of The Glendale Evening News each evening until 9 o'clock will accommodate you.

Storms are due to follow the prevailing hot weather on the Pacific coast, according to the weather forecaster. Fortunately Southern California is not in range of anything more than rain, but too much rain at one time is going to wreak havoc with properties in flood areas which are known as such. The denuded hills this year present a real menace.

However, water is more or less harmless compared to the storms and freezing weather in the East. Those are elements which Californians try to forget.

And the sunshine has been of great value to drying fruits and raisins. Truly, "Sunsweet," "Sunkist" and "Sunmaid" brands are no misnomers for California's choicest products.

Why Not Cut Out the Guesswork?

ALL WOMEN GUESS WHEN THEY BAKE WITH AN ORDINARY GAS RANGE. They take great pains to secure recipes specifying exactly the proportion of each ingredient. They follow the recipe carefully, using measures and scales to make sure they do not fail. Then, having mixed a recipe of expensive materials, they place it in the oven and guess at the temperature.

That women know they are guessing is proved by the fact that they peek at the baking and test it frequently—and often before the baking is done they adjust the burners because skeptical of the outcome.

The "lucky" and "unlucky" baking days are really due to the inability of anyone to obtain exact oven temperatures by guesswork.

NEW POLICY FOR LOCAL COMPANY

Wilson-Bell to Start Cash
Basis Only; Means
Customers Save

Announcing a policy which, it claims, will mean a great saving to customers, the Wilson-Bell Hardware Co., 227 North Brand boulevard, states that on and after the first of October it will conduct strictly a cash business. "We believe that under the new policy to be started that the public will greatly benefit," states S. F. Bell of the firm, "since, under the new scheme, we can eliminate a quantity of overhead expense. By eliminating the cost of conducting the credit business we will be able to serve the public with the same high-grade first quality merchandise at greatly reduced prices."

Contract Department
Mr. Bell states that the firm will continue to conduct a contract department, through which will be handled the same line of builders' hardware and equipment for contractors. The same high-grade stock will be carried, and the line added to in order to keep one of the largest stocks of hardware in Glendale.

New articles in the hardware line are arriving daily, Mr. Bell states, and the new prices will become effective on this as well as stock now carried starting today.

Puritas In Kitchen Helpful to Housewife

The careful physician or druggist uses Puritas in compounding as puritas is essential in accurate prescriptions; the careful housewife uses Puritas in cooking, in making tea and coffee, ices and fruit drinks because Puritas develops a finer flavor. Alkali and other impurities in ordinary water prevent the perfect action of baking powder and spoil the efforts of the housewife; appetizing food would be prepared with the purest materials and absolutely pure extracts or flavorings.

Water often contains earthy, vegetable, and animal matter in solution which render it unfit for use in cooking or in making beverages. The most delicious tea and coffee can be made with Puritas if the modern methods are used. Coffee should not be boiled or steeped in water near the boiling point. Boiling tea and coffee releases dangerous substances as tannin, etc., and even extracts habit-forming drugs. Ordinary water contains alkali which changes the aroma and flavor of high grade tea and coffee. Use Puritas according to directions, and the result will be very gratifying.

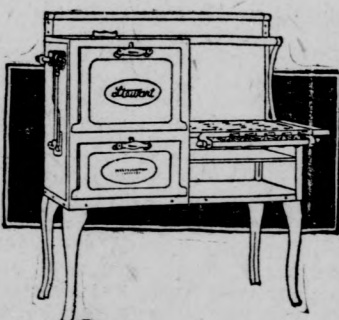

LONG DELAYED HONOR

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 1.—As the result of the publication of his photograph in the American Legion Weekly, Lester F. Albert, state adjutant of the Legion, has just received a citation naming him for "distinguished and exceptional action" in the World War May 27 and 28, 1918. Through the error of a clerk in the War department the citation went to France, came back to the United States and finally reached Lester R. Albert's home in Shenandoah, Pa. Albert didn't know what it was all about until he saw a photograph of the Idaho man with the same name, except for the middle initial, in the Legion Weekly, and sent it on to him.

An American company struck oil at Tarija, Bolivia, and the flow is reported to be 150 barrels a day.

FORMER WIFE WINNER

SANTA ANA, Oct. 1.—After a three-year battle in the courts, Mrs. Mary Moore of Yucaipa, former wife of Lawrence Meyer of Placentia, recently won her fight for possession of her two daughters, Moore, who fought under the custody of the girls since their divorce several years ago, was ordered by the court to pay $40 a month toward the support of the children.

FIGHTER TAKES COUNT

ORANGE, Oct. 1.—Years of experiencing in the boxing ring taught Ed Dominguez, a well-known fighter in Huntington Beach, little in the way of defending himself from missiles hurled by his wife. That was the reason he gave City Recorder Ingle for leaving his wife and two children, Dominguez, who fought under the name of "Eddie Benson," took the count, however, when the magistrate imposed a sentence of six months for non-support of his wife, Josephine Dominguez.

RANCHERS TO GATHER

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 1.—With seventy acceptances already received, "Farmers Day," October 10, at the Southern California Fair promises to bring together a representative group of ranchers from all sections of the Southland. The invitations were sent out by the Riverside County Farm Bureau.

BIG BEAR STAYS OPEN

BIG BEAR LAKE, Oct. 1.—Lovers of winter sports are cheered by the prediction that the Big Bear resort will remain open during the winter season. Word is being broadcasted that regular winter carnivals will be held and with deep snow promised it is expected that the recreational resort will gain fame as a center for winter sports.

FRUIT SHIPMENT CLOSES

CORONA, Oct. 1.—Today marked the closing of the year's fruit shipments from the colony here. Growers have fared remarkably well and have no complaint to make, according to A. E. Lang, manager of the Queen Colony fruit exchange. More than 200 carloads were shipped during the season, with total receipts amounting to nearly $2,000,000.

CAMPAIGNS FOR FUNDS

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 1.—The Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce today began a campaign for the purpose of raising funds to purchase Clover Field where the world air flight began and ended. Aid of the federal government will be sought to make the land an historical place in aeronautic history.

Offers Suggestions on Planting Trees, Shrubs

G. Edwin Murphy, of the Brand Boulevard Nursery, 421 North Brand, has submitted a number of suggestions relative to the planting of trees and shrubs that seem well worth while. His advice is, plant trees and shrubs for one's own pleasure as well as for the good of the country. Every tree and shrub growing helps in a small way to conserve the water supply of the country, he says. "If this statement is doubted," he says, "just take a trip to the timbered part of any state and compare a timber tract with an abundance of underbrush, then to a tract where the brush is cleared out and you will notice the minute you enter the tract with the underbrush that there is a cooling moisture-laden atmosphere and the soil is always moist—then travel a short distance to a tract of country which has lost the na-

Living Models to Give Beauty Demonstration

Announcement was made today, by Dale Ludwig, advertising manager of Webb's, that a special three-day demonstration of the famous Elmo beauty preparations would be held at the store Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Living models will demonstrate in the windows each day as well as at the toilet goods section of the store. The demonstration will be under the supervision of Miss Cora Hodgson, manager of this department for Webb's.

One reason is that many plants gather moisture and nitrogen from the air. Another reason is that the sun's direct rays do not reach the surface of the ground directly under the shrub or tree. Perhaps you will ask what will my small bunch of shrubs contribute to the moisture of the land? True, these shrubs, alone, would be hardly noticeable, but if every property owner would plant shrubbery and trees, California's water supply would be assured for all time to come."

all-white porcelain model, has six top burners and 22-inch oven. The extreme width with end shelf is 53 1/2 inches.

Perfect Workmanship
Particular attention is called to the enameled surface of this stove. The finish of "Fusenamel" is molten mineral fused into white hot metal, which makes it impervious to heat, acid and rust. All Quick Meal gas ranges are made of rust-resisting Ingot iron of fine quality. They are elegant in appearance, sturdily built and distinguished by careful workmanship and excellent materials. To place a dinner in the oven and then without one anxious thought know it will be well cooked and tasty is a satisfaction to any housewife. Such assurance a woman may have when she places a dinner in the oven of a gas range equipped with the Lorain oven heat control.

The ten propositions voted on yesterday at the special election, together with the amount each bond issue called for, if passed, follow: No. 1, additional fire stations and equipment, $60,000; No. 2, modern fire alarm system, $63,500; No. 3, police alarm system, $36,500; No. 4, civic center, $650,000; No. 5, bridges over Verdugo wash, $12,000; No. 6, water system improvements, reservoirs, mains and material, $550,000; No. 7, water bearing land, $126,000; No. 8, park site in Rossmore tract, 35 acres, $122,500; No. 9, park site in south part of city, $35,000; No. 10, modern garbage disposal plant, $50,000.

The locations of the polling places for the twenty consolidated precincts created by the City Council for the special election, follow: Precinct No. 1, garage, rear of 1540 Glenwood road; No. 2, residence at 460 West Palm drive; No. 3, garage at rear of 928 North Louise street; No. 4, real estate office at 2819 Canada boulevard; No. 5, real estate office at 621 North Glendale avenue; No. 6, garage at rear of 611 North Central avenue; No. 7, municipal bath house, Patterson Avenue park; No. 8, garage at rear of 360 West California avenue; No. 9, residence at 801 East Wilson avenue; No. 10, residence at 2021 Sierra avenue; No. 11, real estate office at 1330 East Colorado street; No. 12, barber shop at 628 East Broadway; No. 13, residence at 405 West Colorado street; No. 14, real estate office at 617 South Brand boulevard; No. 15, garage at rear of 800 South Glendale avenue; No. 16, real estate office at 1100 East Palmer avenue; No. 17, auto show room at 1002 South Brand boulevard; No. 18, fire station No. 2, Los Feliz road and Brand boulevard; No. 19, real estate office at Lake street and Western avenue; No. 20, garage at rear of 1745 West Mountain street.

TWO OUT OF TEN PROJECTS CARRY Voters Express Their Views On Civic Suggestions From Committee

The polls, and the heaviest precinct vote was in Consolidated Precinct No. 3, where 453 ballots were cast. The average vote was a little over 240 ballots to each precinct. In Precinct No. 20 there were "landslides" against the issues for fire stations, fire alarm and north side park. The police alarm issue lost three to two in this precinct while the vote was three to two in favor of bridges over Verdugo wash, water system improvements, south side park and modern incinerator. On the civic center the count was four to one in favor of it, but on the water-bearing land project the vote was four to one against the issue.

The fire station issue carried in every precinct except No. 20. The fire alarm system project carried in only five precincts, Nos. 1, 4, 10, 11 and 19. The police alarm system lost in all precincts except No. 19.

Carries Four Precincts

The civic center project carried in Precincts Nos. 1, 2, 13 and 20. The bridges over Verdugo wash, which appeared to be gaining ground as the votes piled up, finally carried in three precincts, Nos. 2, 4 and 19. The police alarm system lost in all precincts except No. 19.

Propositions No. 7, water-bearing land; No. 8, north side park, and No. 9, south side park, failed to carry a two-thirds majority in a single precinct through the city yesterday. No. 10, the modern garbage disposal plant, found strong opposition only in precincts Nos. 12, 15, 16, 18 and 20.

Precinct Totals

The total vote cast in yesterday's special election on the ten bond issues, totaling $1,705,500, as recorded by precincts, follows: Precinct 1, total vote, 288; Precinct 2, total vote, 361; Precinct 3, total vote, 453; Precinct 4, total vote, 98; Precinct 5, total vote, 183; Precinct 6, total vote, 345; Precinct 7, total vote, 262; Precinct 8, total vote, 396; Precinct 9, total vote, 294; Precinct 10, total vote, 56; Precinct 11, total vote, 211; Precinct 12, total vote, 355; Precinct 13, total vote, 300; Precinct 14, total vote, 336; Precinct 15, total vote, 313; Precinct 16, total vote, 118; Precinct 17, total vote, 214; Precinct 18, total vote, 183; Precinct 19, total vote, 56; Precinct 20, total vote, 5. Grand total, 4834.

Carload of Tires for Local Firm Received

Stickney & Dahl's Tire Store at 625 South Brand boulevard is unpacking a carload of Diamond Tires, which they are adding to their store. This addition gives this firm a $50,000 stock of tires and tubes.

Since entering in business a short time ago this firm has greatly increased their business. Both members of the firm, L. C. Stickney and Fred Dahl, have been in the tire business practically all their business life. In addition to the Glendale store, five other stores are operated in the states of Colorado and Nebraska; a store at Sterling, Colo., doing over $100,000 business annually.

Workmen's Garb Leads Police Merry Chase

The Oakmont Country club grounds were yesterday afternoon the scene of a one-act farce with a surprise, ending when officers of the Glendale police department rushed there, following a report that men in women's clothes had been seen on the premises—only to find that the "masqueraders" were only two workmen in water-proof garb, sprinkling the golf course. The joke is on Mrs. Jack Royle of 422-A East Acacia avenue, who turned in the report.

Rev. Livingston Again Named to Pastorate

Rev. J. C. Livingston returned from Santa Barbara, where he was attending the annual Southern California Methodist conference. Rev. Livingston was appointed to the pastorate of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church and will enter his fourth year in charge of that congregation.

Association Presents Views on Boulevard

Sentiment against making Lake street a truck boulevard, and favoring making San Fernando road to Victory boulevard a commercial way, was forcibly expressed last night at the meeting of the North-western Improvement association, held at Lake street and Western avenue.

Twenty-five new members were reported, and the president, L. J. Hoover, stated that 500 was the membership goal. L. J. Hoover, W. R. Farries and J. Hilton were named on a committee to get signers in favor of paving streets; Mr. Hoover, Mr. Farries, W. K. Cooper, E. J. Mackey, J. J. Schnoor form the committee on the Western avenue commercial proposition. The group named to secure new members includes George Van Dergrout, J. Hilton, W. Barnett, I. Hale, J. E. Markey, Mrs. E. B. Pease, W. R. Copeland.

Preliminary Steps to Form Lion Club Made

Preliminary steps toward the permanent organization of a Lions club in Glendale were taken at a meeting held last night in the office of W. B. Kelly, 106 West Colorado street, when fifteen men gathered and discussed the matter. Mr. Kelly officiated as temporary chairman and secretary, and announced today that a luncheon would be held Friday noon at a place to be determined later, when further plans will be made.

Murphy Players Send Greetings to Actors

Expressing spirit of goodwill-ship and co-operation that has marked the engagement of Murphy's Comedians in Glendale and Casa Verdugo, is the telegram received this morning by Mrs. Florence Dobinson from Joseph Bell of the Murphy's Comedians, wishing her and her players success in their engagement, opening to night at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. The telegram read: "Our entire company joins me in wishing you and your company every success in your new venture."

Successful Sale of Army and Navy Goods

The closing out sale of the Original Army & Navy store at the southwest corner of Harvard and South Brand boulevard continues to be a great success and has drawn except onal crowds of bargain hunters since its opening. At this great sales event a wealth of men's furnishings, shoes, blankets, high top boots, umbrellas, army coats, army canteens, camp stools, auto covers, camp chairs and stoves, and many other articles too numerous to mention, are offered.

A LESSON FROM THE NEWS—

That's What Banks are For Finding a bundle of small "green papers" in a bureau drawer, Freddy Simmons, Chester, Pa., had something new to play with. He gave some to his playmates and a colored man gave him 60 cents for two of the "papers." Then his mother returned and missed her savings of $5000 in bills of $100. Police recovered all the bills but those taken by the colored man. Hundred-dollar bills make expensive playthings.—[Capitol Weekly.]

Such things are not as rare as you might think. Almost daily the newspapers tell of losses resulting from being careless with money.

This five thousand dollars placed in the Glendale Branch of the SECURITY BANK would not only have been safe but it would have been earning 4% compounded semi-annually.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—Bonds continued active on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange today, 36,000 California Petroleum being the leader.

In the stocks, Los Angeles Investment dropped back 5 cents and sold at $3.80. Small trading in Julian saw it raise a point from $14.50, only to drop back again. Common was quiet, but made 3/4 gain in small sales, selling at $9.75. Other oils were dull.

In the mines, 9000 Lucky Boy sold at 1.4000 Yellow Dog at 4 and Richmond showed slight gains in the sale of 3000 shares, the last going at $2.87 1/2.

The trading was visibly affected by the weather, but with the hot spell breaking, activity is expected to resume this week-end.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET TOMORROW

Congressman Lineberger to Address Gathering at Harvard School

Congressman Walter F. Lineberger of the Ninth congressional district will be the principal speaker at the meeting of Republicans to be held at the Harvard street Glendale high school tomorrow night at 7:30. In addition to Congressman Lineberger, W. E. Evans and John Robert White, Jr., of Glendale will address the meeting and one or two other speakers may be called upon to talk during the evening.

The purpose of tomorrow night's meeting will be to perfect a strong organization throughout the Sixty-first assembly district, looking to the election of President Coolidge at the coming election in November. The hope of the Republican club members is to organize a club in each district and to reach every precinct before election, explaining the necessity of seeing President Coolidge back at the White House for the next four years.

"We hope to convert the Democrats to our side instead of letting them go to Davis or La Follette," Mr. White stated today. "The Democrats will not have a chance to elect their man and what we want to do is to preserve the constitution and prevent chaos in this country, by the election of Coolidge."

"The citizens cannot afford to take any chances at a time when the constitution is being attacked and it is very important that as strong an organization as possible be perfected."

The meeting will be solely an organization affair and suggestions from those present will be appreciated, the league president states.

FINISH TOUR TRAVELING 26 STATES

Charles B. Guthrie, Realtor, Wife and Daughter, See Wonders of Nation

Returning the first of the week after a 9,300 mile tour which took them through twenty-six states of Canada and the District of Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Guthrie and daughter Katherine, are back in Glendale after what they describe as a most enjoyable ten weeks' journey.

Together with Allen K. Pollock, they left this city July 11 by automobile on their long tour. Mr. Pollock driving the greater part of the distance east, where the machine was placed on the train to be shipped back to their home here. They had planned to drive as far south as Florida, Mr. Guthrie stated, but, because of road conditions, were content to round out their journey at Washington, D. C.

Leaving this city the party motored through the northwest and into provinces of Canada. Road conditions were greatly improved with the construction of highways through Montana and South Dakota.

"The Custer Battlefield Highway association is doing a wonderful work constructing a highway 1500 miles long from Great Falls, Montana, to Sioux Falls, South Dakota," Mr. Guthrie states. "After desert and mountain driving and considering all things we are of the opinion that the additional time to take the route north and avoid the deserts is well worth while."

"I talked politics, Leopold and Loeb, Ku Klux and foot and mouth disease in twenty-six states," says Mr. Guthrie, "and I had many interesting sidelights on the different sections of the 'back country,' on La Follette and the other timely topics. I was, indeed, surprised at the sentiment for La Follette in the north and northwest, but it seems to be of the kind that had no permanence."

In every state and city as well as village I was asked three questions that were invariably the same—"What do you people think of the Leopold and Loeb trial?" "California has suffered terribly from the foot and mouth disease, has it not?" "How does the Ku Klux Klan stand in your country?" Others of importance but not so general as these were "How's business out there?" "I understand you people have had a hard time?" To my denial of this always came the same response: "You haven't anything on us—times have been hard and business is rotten here, but if we can only elect Coolidge, I think business will be better."

See Local People
"In Washington state we enjoyed a visit with Henry Rodenbeck and family at Yakima; at High River, Alberta, we passed the Prince of Wales' ranch; at Bauff we saw E. P. Bryan of Los Angeles and at various other towns of the middle west and east I ran into residents of Southern California. At Washington we were delightfully entertained by Major Braces and wife from our home town in Charleston, Iowa, and these little contacts along the way proved that a transcontinental tour is but a neighborhood call after all."

"We had the pleasure of meeting John Coolidge, father of President Calvin Coolidge in Plymouth, Vermont. When Mrs. Guthrie stood by his side he remarked, 'Mrs. Guthrie, you are now standing in the same spot where the president stood when I gave him the oath of office.' We visited with the president's father some time and later visited the grave of the late Calvin, Jr."

Compare Cities
"It is obvious how futile it would be to try to tell everything at one time, suffice to say, however, that the entire trip was planned to avoid dull days and how well the plan succeeded is best evidenced by the daily journal kept by all of us and the exceeding rapidity with which the time passed. In every city we stopped I secured a copy of its leading daily in order to keep up with the local situation as we went along. It finally dawned on me after comparing great numbers of them, how few of the metropolitan dailies compare with the Los Angeles papers and how very few of the second-class cities from 100,000 to 500,000 could boast a paper to compare with our own Evening News."

"Three cities stand out above all the others in beauty: Minneapolis, Boston and Washington, none of which, however, compares with Los Angeles in freshness and cleanliness and in all the United States, after a careful, critical analysis, 'There is no place like home.'"

Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie and daughter arrived home over the Santa Fe by the California Limited. Mr. Pollock is returning on the steamer Kroonland via Panama canal and is due to arrive at San Pedro, October 17.

AFTERNOON WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Mildred Stechholz and John Muller of Pasadena took place at 1 o'clock this afternoon, Wednesday, October 1, 1924, at the home of Rev. Henry O. Krings at 414 North Maryland avenue. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Armstrong were the attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Muller may locate in Glendale.

wins the "RIDGE ROUTE TEST"

If you've been paying a fancy price for a special Ford oil and not getting value in lubrication, read this letter from the Quick Service Garage of Porterville, California:

"We are operating four Ford one-ton trucks, equipped with Rajo heads, with which we haul 1 to 4 tons over the Ridge Route into Los Angeles.

"We have been using Zerolene 'F' for Fords and recently tested it against several Eastern oils on the same run. We found that Zerolene 'F' for Fords equals these other oils in every respect, gives less carbon, and costs approximately one-half less."

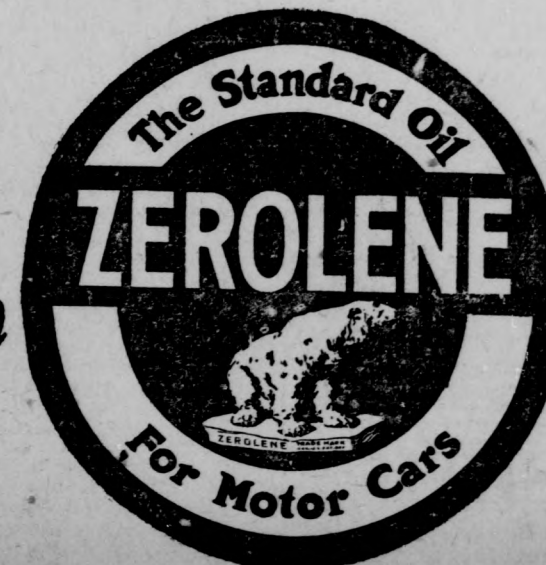

Zerolene 'F' for Fords is proving the claims of its makers wherever these claims are subjected to comparative tests in service.

It reaches every part requiring lubrication, feeds the wrist-pin bearings and the upper half of the cylinder walls that are so frequently "oil-starved" and keeps transmission bands softer, and deposits a minimum of carbon.

A Ford is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Ice Water and Beet Pickles
"Dear Doctor Lulu: I am writing to thank you for your booklet on reducing. I am one of those who thought fat was inherited, and that nothing could be done for it. When I sent for your instructions I weighed 240 pounds, and now, after four months, I weigh 188. I have not found it hard and I have been delighted to find the fat rolling off. I am going to keep on reducing till I become normal and then I intend to count my calories forever. I have given my booklet to a friend and she has reduced 17 pounds in a month. Have given your address to a number of friends also. I never miss an opportunity to sing your praises."

"Is ice water fattening? I have been told it is. One of my friends says she has eaten beet pickles in large quantities and so reduced, but in your booklet, beet pickles are listed as having a great many calories. I suppose biscuits in which a considerable amount of shortening was used would have just that many more calories than light bread, wouldn't they?"

Fifty-two pounds in four months is a pretty stiff reduction, but if you feel so well it is probably not too much for you. No, water, ice or not, is not fattening. You can drink all the water you want to, at meals or between meals. At meals, however, don't use the water to wash your food down. You should have considerable water at any time, and especially while reducing—at least two quarts.

Your friend who reduced on beet pickles may have reduced because she upset her digestion, or it may be possible that by eating so many she stopped eating the more concentrated foods. It isn't such a good method; in fact, it's a very bad method, indeed. She probably got so much vinegar that it pickled her stomach and put it out of commission.

Yes, a level tablespoonful of shortening registers 100 calories, so biscuits that have a large amount of shortening would register more calories than light bread. It is better to eat whole wheat or bran bread, reducing or not, than to eat so much white bread and biscuits. Bran and whole wheat bread would have a little more waste, so they might be counted just a few calories less than white bread.

Underweight and Constipation
"Dear Doctor Peters: It is certainly gratifying to a busy mother of seven, like myself, to have the privilege of reading such honest-to-goodness helpful and practical suggestions and advice as you give.

"I have been constipated as long as I can remember and seem to be beyond help, and wonder if you possibly can help me. Please send me your article on constipation. I certainly am not too fat—age 38, height five feet seven inches, weight 130 pounds. Thanking you very much for your kindness—Mrs. K."

You are probably constipated because you are not eating enough, Mrs. K. You are about 20 pounds or so underweight. We have an article on constipation which has been sent you if you enclosed a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request. Did you? Meanwhile, eat more; eat more whole wheat bread and butter, cereals and drink more milk. Send for our pamphlet on gaining. Enclose a. s. e. and ten cents in stamps with your name and address. I have said many times, nothing gives me more happiness than to know I am helping the children. Thank you for letting me know I have helped you, Mrs. K.

Can't Keep Awake
M. says she could sleep on an overworked. Sleeps in movies, clothesline; is a bookkeeper, not street cars and automobiles! Are you underweight, M? Or anemic or overweight and plethoric (excess of blood)? Are you suffering from auto-intoxication from constipation or are you toxicemic (poison in blood) from some chronic infection in teeth, tonsils or other focus? Whatever 'tis, you need attention, girl, from some modern skillful physician.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your requests to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. We will not be held responsible for answers to questions of a general nature. Don't forget to tell us if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Family Gathering

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Houston entertained a large company of relatives in their home at 440 West Myrtle street Sunday, honoring Mr. Houston's sister, Mrs. Harold Playter of Corinto, Nicaragua, who is here on a visit. Most of the people present were brothers and sisters of Mr. Houston and Mrs. Playter, and included Mr. and Mrs. John Atwill and son, John, of Alhambra, and Mrs. Richard Alexander of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Alexander of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Locke and daughter, Miss Mary, Eric Sprathorne, Mrs. F. P. Selleck, all of Huntington Park, Mrs. M. L. Patterson, Mrs. Emily Alexander, Mrs. Harold Playter, and daughters, Patricia and Jean, Houston Playter, Mr. and Mrs. Houston and daughters, Misses Dorothy and Elizabeth.

Opening Meeting

The first meeting of the Pacific Avenue Parent-Teacher association will be held at the school Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations will speak. Mrs. E. D. Morris, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Curtis, will sing. Allen Spurr, of Alhambra, who has composed a P. T. song will be present to sing it for the members. All old members as well as newcomers to the district are most cordially invited to attend the opening meeting. In order that the beginning work of the year may be understood and enjoyed. Refreshments will be served cafeteria style. Executive board members are requested to meet promptly at 2 o'clock as there is much business to be transacted.

Honor Anniversary

Mrs. C. J. Aggergaard of Big Creek, a patient at the Glendale sanitarium, was hostess at a delightful double wedding anniversary luncheon yesterday noon at the sanitarium. The couples honored were Chaplain and Mrs. R. J. Munson and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Townsend. The wedding anniversary of the two first named occurred today, while that of Mr. and Mrs. Townsend came on Sunday. Those present at the affair were Dr. Julia White, Mrs. H. W. Vollmer, Miss Della Paine, C. J. Aggergaard of Big Creek, who, with Mrs. Jergensen, mother of Mrs. Aggergaard, arrived yesterday; Miss Matilda Spencer, a missionary who recently returned from Japan; Miss Mary Kisz, Miss Delores Flory and Mrs. George Briggs.

Meeting Friday

Mrs. John Robert White will open her home at 347 North Orange street Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to members of the Women's Christian Temperance union. Mrs. J. H. Daughy will be in charge of the meeting, and Mrs. Hattie Doughty of Los Angeles, county president, will give a talk on "Scientific Temperance instruction." Invitations have been sent to all teachers in the Glendale elementary and high schools to attend this meeting, as members of the Union plan to have some essay contests this winter and hope to interest the teachers in their work.

Methodist Women

The Aid society of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church will serve a luncheon in the church parlors Thursday. Mrs. William and Mrs. John W. Cotton and Miss Jeanette Herrick are the committee in charge of the affair. Visitors will be welcomed at the lunch and a nominal sum charged. A business meeting will follow the luncheon at which Mrs. Cotton, president of the organization, will preside. Mrs. G. Amphlett and Miss Jeanette Herrick, who are head of the work committee, will present plans for the coming year.

Pleasing Hostess

Mrs. H. H. Wiebe entertained a company of relatives and friends Monday afternoon in her home at 438 West Burchett street. The guests brought their needlework, and had a pleasant time visiting. In the evening Mrs. Wiebe served a dinner to the following: Mrs. Anna Dyck and daughter, Miss Martha; Mrs. J. L. Schowalter, Mrs. H. P. Goertz and Mrs. A. A. Nickel.

Luncheon Hostess

Miss Marie Hearnshaw entertained a small company at a 1 o'clock luncheon served yesterday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hearnshaw, at 358 West Lomita avenue. The afternoon was spent in a social manner. The guests were: Mrs. E. Allen, Misses Sarah Allen and Katherine Guthrie.

Farewell Dance

As a farewell to Murphy's Comedians, who leave Thursday for San Diego, Mrs. Esther J. Barnard and her daughter, Miss Doris Barnard, entertained a company in their home at Casa Verdugo after the show last night. Rooms of the Barnard home were attractively decorated with bouquets of roses and dahlias, while pot plants were added features. The evening passed pleasantly with music and dancing and later the guests were served a buffet luncheon. The guests included Murphy's Comedians, Granville Forbes Sturgis, S. A. Davis, Louis Sargent, Jack Richardson, Miss Florence Stone, Arthur Lake, of the Universal studio, Mrs. Edith Silverlake, Miss Margaret Robinson, and Miss Mildred Underwood.

Birthday Affairs

Mr. W. M. Van Osodell of 341 West Elk avenue had a very happy birthday yesterday, for her daughter, Miss Emily, arranged an afternoon surprise party for her, and in the evening her home was the scene of an informal dinner party.

In the afternoon pink and white carnations were used in decoration. At the close of an informal social hour, a birthday luncheon was served on a prettily decorated table. Dainty pink and white baskets were the favors. Before Mrs. Van Osodell's place was a birthday cake in pink and white with candles. Guests were Mesdames Miles, L. B. Nunn, M. D. Burke, Best, Hall and Hillard of Glendale; Mrs. J. Andrew and Miss Bruin of El Monte; Mrs. Burgen of Los Angeles.

Complete Fund

Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., opened her home at North Central avenue and West Lexington drive, yesterday afternoon, for a bridge and mah jong party, sponsored by the Fine Arts department of the Tuesday Afternoon club. The affair was to raise the remaining amount of the fund for the John W. Cotton picture for the clubhouse, and, according to Mrs. Roy Ballagh, curator, it was successful. There were six tables of bridge and six of mah jong. Mrs. White won the hand-painted parchment shades, given by Mrs. James P. Armstrong as the bridge prize. Mrs. George Bradshaw was awarded the landscape done by Mrs. Nell Warner and given for the mah jong prize. Mrs. Ballagh has asked The Glendale Evening News to express the appreciation of the Fine Arts department to Mrs. White for the use of her home.

Birthday Party

The birthdays of Mrs. H. H. Wiebe, 438 West Burchett street, and her brother, P. M. Goertz, 324 Pioneer drive, were the motif for a large gathering of relatives at the Wiebe home Sunday to celebrate the occasion. The day was spent in a social manner with dinner served late in the afternoon. The company included Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Vollmer, Misses Lenore and Marion; Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Goertz and daughters, Misses Linda and Frieda, and son, Willard; Dr. and Mrs. Henry J. Friesen, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Isaac, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hiebert and daughters, Misses Mildred and Corina; Miss Helen Friesen, Milton and Gerald Friesen, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Nickel and daughters, Misses Marie, Wanda and Edna; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Everett, and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Goertz.

Board Meeting

Executive board members of the Parliamentary Law club will meet in the juvenile hall of the public library at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning, with Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, president of the club, to discuss important business. All members of the board are urged to be present. The regular meeting will be held at 10 o'clock, and the lesson for Friday will be a review of the work already studied.

Will Initiate Class

Several candidates will be initiated at the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Spanish War Veterans' camp, to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Knights of Pythias hall at Park avenue and Brand boulevard. Officers and members of the color team are requested to be at the hall promptly at 7 o'clock. Arrangements for the Halloween party, which will be held October 29, will be completed tonight.

Chicken Dinner

Chicken is to be the piece de resistance of the dinner served tomorrow night by the women of the Broadway Methodist church at the church. Mrs. Fannie Ford and Mrs. L. J. Millikan compose the dinner committee. Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. J. N. McGillis, Glendale 502-W.

Pythian Sisters

Final plans for the Halloween party, which will be given by the Pythian Sisters, will be made at the meeting to be held Friday night, at 8 o'clock in the Knights of Pythias hall. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

May Bee—Moles on the face should be removed only by a doctor who specializes in such work, as you might be left with scars that would be worse than the moles.

X. Y. Z., A. W. C.—For your oily skin make the following mixture and put it into little cheese cloth bags, to use in place of soap. To a cup of the old-fashioned cut-meal, add a tablespoonful of shaved castile soap and several pinches of sulphur.

Place a teaspoonful of the mixture in each bag to be used in warm weather several times a day for bathing the face. Rinse in cold water in which there are a few drops of tincture of benzoin. Try a drop at a time until the water looks milky. An oily skin is the result of poor elimination, so you can only overcome it by correcting its cause.

L. M.—Eat more fruit and fresh vegetables omitting all the rich foods for a time, and you will probably get rid of the pimples.

Peggy R.—The foods to avoid when reducing are the starchy, oily, and sweet ones.

Flo—Sage tea will not darken your hair except to tint the grey ones to that of a tan shade. The tea is made by steeping it till all color is extracted.

Mrs. F. H.—The nurse put the oil on your skin to keep it from being irritated if the ether should get on it. It is hardly possible that either the oil or the ether had anything to do with the fine hair that has since appeared.

Use a mixture of equal parts ammonia and peroxide on the growth, and it may disappear; and if it does not do this, it will bleach it so it will not be seen.

J. L. C.—Consult the doctor about the red spot on each eyelid, as you could not treat such a condition yourself.

Leona S.—There must be some trouble with your blood or digestion to cause the pimples. Simplify your diet for a time, if that does not help consult the doctor.

A. P.—If milk agrees with you, drink plenty of it to help you build up your weight. If you do this and take enough exercise, especially out in the air, you will clear your skin and build up your health at the same time.

This is how to make two popular kinds of doughnuts: Yeast-Raised Doughnuts: Begin them the night before you wish to fry them. At about 8:45 put one cup of sweet milk into a saucepan and let it scald over a hot fire. Do not let it boil. When scalding hot, pour it into a large mixing bowl and let it cool to the lukewarm stage (this will take about 15 minutes), then stir into it a teaspoon of salt, one-fourth of a cake of compressed yeast dissolved in one-third cup of tepid water, and not quite two full cups of ordinary bread flour (that is, about one and seven-eighths cups). This makes a very thick batter. Cover the bowl with a clean cloth and stand it in moderate room temperature to rise overnight.

In the morning you will find that it has not risen very high, but is very light. At about eight o'clock add to it two well-beaten eggs, one heaping teaspoon of ground nutmeg, one-third cup of lard and butter mixed together and melted, one cup of light brown sugar and one and one-fourth cups more of bread flour. This makes a very stiff dough. Cover bowl again with the cloth, place in a warm spot to rise, and at about 11 o'clock it will be ready to turn out onto a floured board, rolled out lightly to one inch in thickness and cut with a small cookie cutter (to make a perfectly round disc). Fry as directed below.

Doughnuts Raised Without Yeast: Beat the whites of two eggs and the yolks of three eggs together. Then add to them three-quarters of a cup of granulated sugar and cream well. Also add one cup of sweet milk. Now mix together the following dry ingredients: five cups of bread flour, one teaspoon of ground cinnamon, the two mixtures, add two tablespoons of melted butter, turn out onto a floured board, roll to one-fourth inch thickness and cut in rings. To Fry Doughnuts: Have your fat smoking hot, or hot enough to brown a small cube of bread in one minute. It takes about two minutes to brown one side, then turn doughnut over—or it may turn itself because the cooked under part is lighter than the uncooked upper part. Sprinkle with powdered sugar after taking out and draining.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in due turn. CHAPTER LXVI

Craig and his mother were lingering over a late breakfast when she went downstairs. He had fallen asleep at about five, he told her shamefacedly, and known nothing more until after nine.

Not knowing of their talk last night, it was amazing and marvelously relieving to her to have him get up and come to meet her with his usual shrewd, gray-eyed smile. He took her hands, and said in a brotherly, affectionate fashion:

"I didn't have a chance last night to tell you how heartily I wish you everything good in the world, my dearest girl!"

"Thank you, Craig," Hilary answered, taking his kiss with a sudden rush of color. Her heart began to beat less fearfully; nothing agitating seemed scheduled for the immediate hour. I stopped at Dora's room, she went on, saying the one thing she desired not to say, "but she was gone!"

"Dentist!" Mrs. Spaulding said, placidly, finishing her coffee. "Aren't you going to eat, child? Dear me, dear me, I'd forgotten that phase of it!"

"I had my tea. I'm lunching at half-past twelve—at the Plaza," Hilary laughed, in a little confusion. "Not even fruit, please, Anna," she said to the interested and highly sympathetic maid.

You and Conrad say the word, and we'll give you a dinner," Craig suggested. Hilary promised that it should be arranged; in great content, if in some astonishment. Last night's apparently incurable situation was being most smoothly handled; there were to be no scenes, Craig was eating bacon and muffins, and Hilary had gone to the dentist.

She had an errand, she said, excusing herself presently. It would be wonderful, thought Hilary, to walk to her midday meetings. The winter air brought up her color, filled her lungs with energy, and lifted her heart on wings. She went briskly over the scraped sidewalks, in the cold, clear sunlight, her blue eyes shining with a new light, and a great bunch of violets pinned against her furs. The world was a wonderful world this morning!

But when she left the breakfast table, Craig said to his mother: "You're right; it would kill her to know how bad it is with Butterfly and me. Time enough later. She'd think she had to stand back of Butterfly—to see her through."

"Does Butterfly understand that we are protecting Hilary?"

"She said very little. She was doing her hair; I sent Emma out. I loathe that girl! I suggested to her that we spare Hilary as much as we can: keep the surface smooth. It won't," said Craig, bitterly, "it won't be extremely different from what our relationship has been for several months."

Dora got angry, for a minute, and said that her life was her own, and not Hilary's—she wanted to leave for California this afternoon. I talked her out of it. I think she sees that we've all got to sit tight until Hilary's married. Then she can go her way, and I mine. I'm not sorry, in a way. It hasn't been satisfactory, exactly, for a long time!"

"Kronski won't wait long," Mrs. Spaulding said, after a thoughtful silence. "Small blame to him. I wish, my boy, I wish that when you had gone down to Mount Holly, three years ago—"

"I know!" Craig said, hurriedly. "I know!"

"Too late for that now!" Mrs. Spaulding presently observed. "This is November—Thursday's Thanksgiving. I've no doubt they'll be married by April."

"Until April then," Craig said briefly. "Do you think Dora'll stand the strain?"

"I don't know. I don't think she does; she doesn't know what she wants. With Kronski and Hilary in Europe—"

"What I fear is her appealing to Hilary, and in some way upsetting everything. I shall be sick if Hilary's not to have her chance now!" the woman said, thoughtfully.

"We've all spoiled Dora," Craig commented, presently. "Poor Butterfly!"

"I, too," his mother added, vigorously. "I bought her everything she fancied, when we were all abroad. Your father spoiled her. And she was sweet with him, charming with him," his widow remembered suddenly, her stern gray eyes filling. "Where's my little daughter?"

Craig remembered the phrase; the happy days of investigating, tramping, lunching, and shopping in enchanted Paris! Eighteen-year-old Dora looking at frocks, exclaiming and marveling. Dora with the wedding ring on her little hand, lingering on and on with her crackers and cheese and coffee, and entrancing him with glimpses of her pure soul and mind. What a wonderful fairy-tale wife it had been that he took away with him in his car from

THE GATEWAY

Critics today are not always to be found hammering a typewriter in a hallowed corner of a newspaper office, officially designated the "dramatic department." No sire! The picture-going public is now settling things itself and handing out praise or "panning," as it sees fit.

Here is a fledgling critic in most modern and highbrow Brooklyn Mount Holly on a glowing September day! He remembered the little feet in trim brown stockings and pumps, the brown suit that she always proudly called "my Gleason suit," the sheer frills about her soft throat, and dahlia hat upon her bright hair!

All was over now. The tears that had pressed behind Hilary's brave blue eyes on that wedding day had been shed a thousand times since over that same radiant little bride; the little house-hold in the Carolan kitchen, the love that bound these two sisters together in such iron chains, was all a thing of the past now. When Butterfly went to Paris again, it would be with some other man; the pretty face would be a little harder, the fair skin a little artificial, the laugh he stood beside her at the rail, with demure brown eyes under long dark lashes.

"You had no sleep, Craig?" his mother said, watching his dark face. "Oh, yes, I did. I got off at about five, I think. But—but it isn't sleep I need!"

He got up, kissed her, and went with the soreness and slowness of an old man to get his coat and hat. His mother followed him anxiously. Craig again kissed her; he would be late today, but he would drop in at the bazaar sometime this evening. She was not to worry; everything was all right.

It was only to Hilary, however, that everything was all right, and that not for long. She had a few days, perhaps a week, of such delight as only comes once in a lifetime, and only to a nature as sweet and deep as hers.

Two regiments of railway artillery were recently formed on the Pacific coast from shore line forts.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S CLEAN HANDKERCHIEF

"Now, if I skip on ahead you won't be late, will you, Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one evening when she was all ready to go to the moving pictures and the rabbit gentleman wasn't quite ready.

"Oh, goodness, no! I'll not be late—I wouldn't miss the news reel for anything!" said Mr. Longears, "and you know they show the news reel first, always, at the movies."

"Well, don't be late, whatever else you do," begged Nurse Jane. "I'll call for Mrs. Twistytail and she and I will meet you at the door. And be sure and bring the money for our tickets."

"I'll do that!" promised the bunny. "I guess I'd better buy two tickets for Mrs. Twistytail, hadn't I?"

"No. Why?" asked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, puzzled like.

"Because that pig lady is so fat she always sits on two seats at once," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "But it isn't anything to me. Skip along, Janie, I'll be with you as soon as I have shaved."

"As if anybody would see that you hadn't shaved, in the darkness of the movies!" laughed the muskrat lady.

But no matter, Uncle Wiggily had to shave, and soon he was taking the soapy lather and some of his whiskers off with a razor. And when he had washed his face and was almost ready to meet Nurse Jane and Mrs. Twistytail at the pictures the bunny looked in the bureau drawer and saw that he had no clean handkerchief.

"Oh, I wouldn't dare go to the movies without a clean handkerchief," said Mr. Longears to himself. "However, it will take me only a few minutes to wash one out and iron it. Then I can squirt a little of Nurse Jane's perfume on, since she isn't here, and I'll be all right for the pictures."

Uncle Wiggily washed out a handkerchief in the hand basin of the bath room. He put the clean, wet handkerchief out on the line to dry in the evening breeze and while he was waiting he put a flatiron on the gas stove to heat while the "hankoznitch," as Baby Bunty called it, was drying.

Uncle Wiggily was quite a smart rabbit gentleman, and soon he was ironing his clean handkerchief as nicely, almost, as Nurse Jane could have done.

"And now for some perfume!" he laughed, as he went up to his muskrat lady housekeeper's room. "I'll spray a bit on my hankie, and go to the movies. Yes, now for the perfume!"

"Yes, and now for your ears!" suddenly howled a most unpleasant voice, and the Fuzzy Fox came creeping up the stairs.

"Go away, you bad chap!" called Uncle Wiggily bravely. "Not until I have nibbled your ears!" snarled the Fox.

The bunny was just squeezing the rubber ball on Nurse Jane's perfume atomizer, spraying some of the sweet smelling stuff on his handkerchief, but, all of a sudden, the Fox made a jump for the rabbit.

"Ha! I'll spray you before I spray my handkerchief!" cried the rabbit, and he shot some of the perfume in the eyes of the bad chap. Now though perfume smells very nice, it isn't good to get in the eyes. And the eyes of the bad Fox began to smart him, very much, indeed.

"Oh, gurra! Gurra!" he howled. "Oh, what a funny feeling! Oh, I can't see!" and the bad old Fox stumbled down stairs and bumped its nose and then he ran away. And it served him right, I think.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny. Then he sprayed perfume on his clean handkerchief and hopped to the movies to meet Nurse Jane and Mrs. Twistytail. And no one in the whole theatre smelled any sweeter than the rabbit gentleman. Every one said so.

And now if our cat will wear rubber boots the next time she goes skating with the goldfish, I'll tell you tomorrow about Uncle Wiggily and the butter.

USE MOST BUTTER

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Farm families use three times as much butter per capita and twice as much milk and cream as do dwellers of the city, according to a statement issued by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute after a survey of 8,650 farms by the United States department of agriculture. The American farmer consumes his own dairy products generously, the survey states. During 1923 the average farm individual consumed 80.8 gallons of milk, including cream, while the average for the entire United States was only fifty-three gallons. This would equal 39.1 gallons for the average city dweller.

PENNER TURNS IN VERNON VICTORY

Star Hurler Wins Twenty-Third Game of Season Against Solons

By THREE STRIKES
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—Sacramento and their new manager, Buddy Ryan, offered three Solon hurlers to be battered for plenty of hits by the Vernon Tigers, these latter mentioned taking the first game of the series yesterday, 9 to 4. All in all it was a spiritless affair which meant nothing at all, since there's nothing at stake and nobody felt like playing ball, anyhow.

Ken Penner twirled his twenty-third victory of the season, and while he was nicked for nine smacks, his teammates piled up tallies in the interim. Hall started for the Senators but trailed to the clubhouse in the fifth, when Harry Hughes mounted the hilltop. The Bengals doing Hughes for five hits in the seventh proved too much for Harry, consequently he crabbed his way to the showers under the guidance of Umpire Carroll. Peters pitched the final frame. Seventeen bingles were gathered by the Essick crew, but they pulled a trio of errors, so no one got excited about any phase of the contest.

Staging a four-run rally in the fifth, the Salt Lake Bees took the opener from Oakland yesterday, 5 to 2. Oakland and Los Angeles are separated by only one game for third place in the league.

Players Eligible for Series Are Announced

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The following players are eligible to compete in the world's series, according to an announcement by Commissioner K. M. Landis:

Giants—Howard Baldwin, Virgil J. Barnes, John H. Bentley, Wayland Dean, A. J. Dolan, Frank Frisch, Harry Gowdy, Henry Groh, Walter Hunsinger, Travis Jackson, Hugh Jennings, Claude Jonnard, George L. Kelly, Fred Lindstrom, Hugh McQuillen, Ernest Mann, Emil Meusel, Arthur Nehf, James O'Connell, Wilfred D. Ryan, Frank Snyder, William Southworth, William Terry, John R. Watson, Ross Young, Lewis R. Wilson.

Senators—Nick Altrock, O. L. Bluege, Leon Goslin, W. M. Hargrave, Stanley Harris, Walter Johnson, Joseph Judge, Harry Leibold, Fred Marberry, Joseph Martina, G. Earl McNeely, George Mordridge, Homer Peckinpaugh, E. C. Rice, Harold Ruel, A. Russell, Bennett Tate, J. T. Zachary, Paul Zahniser, Byron Speece, E. R. Shirley, Warren H. Ogden.

Heinie's Race For Home

Now that the world series is here again, fans are recalling baseball tales—not all world series tales, either. The famous run made by Heinie Zimmerman in 1917 is a classic. Read the story as told by Norman E. Brown.

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Written for The Evening News
Weather conditions always play a big part in the playing and attendance ends of a world's series. And speaking of weather, that odd day in 1922 is recalled—the day when the sun was so bright that Umpire Hildebrandt mistook its glow for an Arctic night and called the game on account of darkness.

And right away quick other boners of the fall classics are recalled. One bone leads to another, as the instructor in the anatomy class pointed out.

That $30,000 Muff
For many years Snodgrass' famous $30,000 muff that cost the Giants the series of 1912 was the masterpiece in "bone" history. In my opinion, however, Heinie Zimmerman's famous run has held the title since it was staged in the series of 1917.

Snodgrass' error was a physical one. Heinie's was a mental one although his feet should have known better. Any pair of well behaved baseball feet would have tripped over each other rather than carry their owner to such ridicule.

Enter Headline Act
Heinie's great act was staged in the fourth inning of the sixth game. It enabled Chicago to score the first of three runs that were enough to win the game.

Heinie got away bad in that inning. Eddie Collins, the first man up, bounced one to Zimmerman and the third baseman heaved wild, Collins reaching second.

Joe Jackson raised a fly to Robertson, who dropped it. Collins moved to third.
McGraw motioned his infield in as Felsch went to bat. He grounded to Benton and the latter essayed to tag Collins off third. Collins retreated toward third and Benton tossed the ball to Zimmerman.

They're off!
Zimmerman is bent on touching Eddie out. The honor is to be his alone.

Real Wow Race
Collins leads at the quarter! Three Chicago players, gathered around home plate, plead for the ball!

"Tis mine till death do us part," yells Heinie, and keeps on. Half way home—and Collins holds his lead! Heinie is figuratively whipping his feet to get more speed out of them.
"Use your head!" some one yells to Heinie! He ponders but a moment on the remark. "I never ran on my head yet," he mutters, and still depends upon his "dogs."

They near the plate! Collins leads by a length—of a bat. He flashes over the rubber a winner! "Another fifty feet and I'd have caught him," muttered Heinie.
Two more runs rolled in in the proper manner after that before the Sox were retired.

Ruth Is "Goat."
Babe Ruth may well be called the goat of the 1921 world's series. Babe hit .313 in the series, but McGraw held him helpless in the pinches, just as he did the next year.

The fan was the goat in the decomposed series of 1919 between the Cincinnati Reds and White Sox. That baseball lived after the "selling out" by the "Black Sox" members of the Chicago team is due solely to the kindheartedness of the fans. The players who played true to their trust never will draw their proper share of glory for their part in that series because all records hinged upon games which were not on the level as far as some participants were concerned.

Fred Merkle made a mistake when he failed to save his "boner" for a world's series. Fred failed to touch second one day when victory meant the pennant for the Giants. That eliminated all chance of boners in the fall classic as far as Fred and his teammates were concerned.

RICKARD LOSER

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 1.—Tex Rickard lost $5000 in promoting the Willis-Firpo fight in Jersey City, according to a statement filed today with State Comptroller Newton A. K. Bugbee, who is also state athletic commissioner.

McGREER AND FORD

Big Jim Cullen, the new match-maker of the Pasadena Athletic club, has obtained the heavyweights, Jack McGreer and Young Ford, colored, to box the main event next Thursday night. Jack Russo and Chris George will box the semi-windup. Other bouts: Young Lancheo vs. Marcel Denis, 135 pounds; Mickey White vs. Kid McDowell, 124 pounds; Joe Russell vs. Bert Gonzales, catchweights, and Young Bud Ridley and Kid McAdoo, 130 pounds. Johnny Schiff will referee all bouts.

MARKS AND FARRELL

Lyceum fight fans will be given a real treat in the main event lined up by Dick Donald for next Saturday night. George Marks and Young Farrell are on the card for this bout. Eddie Diggins and Battling Ward fight in the semi-windup. Bud Cicerone has been matched with Eddie West for the special event. Cicerone is a hard slugger and he depends upon this sort of punishment to wear his opponent down. Three other bouts are on the card.

$200,000 FOR RACES

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Plans for a series of four international horse races in 1925, two to be run in Kentucky and two in New York, have been laid before August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey club, by Matt J. Winn, general manager of the Kentucky Jockey club. Mr. Winn declared that the proposal involves an aggregate purse of $200,000 for the series, for which the best of Europe's thoroughbreds would be invited to compete with American horses.

OXY GRID ELEVEN TO TACKLE CARDS

Tiger Squad In First Public Appearance at Stanford Next Saturday

Coach Sid Nichols' husky horde of Tiger grid demons will make their first public appearance next Saturday afternoon when the Occidental varsity meets Stanford university in a return game at Palo Alto in the new stadium. The Big Red Boys trampled all over the Orange and Black warriors last year at the L. A. Coliseum and are aiming to repeat their performance.

No one knows what Sid Nichols is keeping up his sleeve, but the fans predict a huge surprise package is being coveyed by the Oxy mentor. Secret practice still prevails at Patterson field. The Occidental machine is being altered by the new "Boss" and the style of play is varied. The Cardinals will be meeting a better aggregation than last season and the strength of the Oxy team may surprise the boys from the Farm. Oxy's whole team is heavier and faster. The loss of the six vets from last season has made no striking difference in the squad as plenty of new experienced players have filled in the vacancies.

Team Hard at Work

The Tiger varsity will open fire against Stanford with all the fight they have and attempt to take the northern team off their feet before they know what it's all about. The players are working hard for a place on the team and several sophomores have already slipped in ahead of the varsity lettermen from last season. Although the squad is large, Coach Nichols and his assistants Coach Oak Smith and Bill Anderson are putting the men through some stiff workouts and giving the boys lots of scrimmage. Among the varsity prospects out for the Occidental football team are: Captain Dave Rid-

Mandell Easy Winner Over Johnny Adams

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—Sammy Mandell of Chicago today has the glory, if any, attached to Johnny Adams' so-called Pacific coast lightweight title as a result of the terrific pasting he gave the California lightweight here last night. Mandell took every round and made Adams look like a novice.

Fred Winsor's heavyweight, Tony Fuente, scored his third knockout in a week by toppling over Jack McGreer, San Fernando farmer boy.
The biggest hit made by a boxer was scored here by Jimmy McLarnin, Oakland 116-pounder, who easily defeated Benny Diaz of Los Angeles in a special event. McLarnin appeared the best boy of his weight since Teddy Silva's debut.

University of Wisconsin co-eds recently went on record as against drinking among either sex.

derhoff and Roy Wheeler, fullbacks; Ebers, Westgate, Haserot, Buckman, Buxton, Nash, Turley, Gregory, L. Davis and Purser, halfbacks; Fauchie Smith, Creswell and Solly Mishkin, quarterbacks; Pursell, Hazeltine, Johnson, Godet, Teachout, Tanaka, ends; Stevens, Hitch, Conde, G. Davis, tackles; McDonald, Davidson, Lindquist, McHann and Kleinpell, guards; Creighton and Swede Renius, centers.

Experienced Squad

Most of this group have had varsity experience and the remainder, with the exception of Turley transferred from the College of Puget Sound last year while Bob Kleinpell transferred from S. B. U. C. Turley is doing remarkably well at half and will be a dangerous man. Solly Mishkin, a soph and former Hollywood star, is bidding high for the signal position. His work is commendable and he is a fighting, plunging maniac. Captain Dive Ridderhoff with his 200-pounds of muscle is sure of the fullback position and is going better than ever. His injured shoulder of last season does not bother him any more.

PITCHING, BREAKS TO DECIDE TITLE

Giants Look Best on Dope Sheet, But Statistics Don't Win Games

plays against Kelly or Terry, he will be the more effective man on the bases. In hitting he has an average of .322 against Kelly's .320 and Terry's .246. Obviously, Judge is a superior offensive bet over the McGraw combination.

Money Player

At third base, Groh outbats Bluege during the regular season .281 to .274, not enough to make the difference important. However, Heinie is a money player and probably will do the more effective hitting if he plays at all, if he doesn't, Bluege will have the edge on Lindstrom, the Giant under study.

In the Washington outfield, Liebold hit .299; Goslin .343 and Rice .333, which is nothing to look down your nose at. It more than holds its own with the Giant record, to-wit: Wilson .286; Meusel .309 and Young .358, granting that McGraw will not play Kelly in center field in more than half of the games. As a base running combination, furthermore, the Giant outfield doesn't compare with the Senators. Behind the bat, Ruel of the Senators hit .282 against the .326 of Gowdy, who probably will do most of McGraw's catching. But Ruel is much the faster man and again we have the old danger signal in the pinch. Ruel is just as good a man as Gowdy when a hit means runs.

Need More Light

So much for the downright veracity of figures. They are not altogether illuminating, in any case, because it is possible that one club or the others faced easier pitching during the regular season. They also fail to show that, in

Special Pin Match Goes to Tile Bowlers

The five-man bowling team representing Glendale Tile & Mantel, defeated the Pullman Cafe pin artists in a special match last night at the Glendale Recreation center in the Jensen building, winning two of the three games. Roder, for the winners, rolled high score in the first game, with 225 to his credit. The score:

GLENDALE TILE AND MANTEL	PULLMAN CAFE
Roder	225
Hammes	210
Fortunato	195
Sands	168
Brehme	202
Totals	1090
Dawson	161
Palbst	192
Magunson	220
Brown	222
Moore	184
Totals	946

SCHMIDT WANTS JOB

Charley Schmidt, the old Detroit catcher and strong man, who has been umpiring for three months in the Western league, has asked President Harry Williams, of the Pacific Coast league, for a position on the umpiring staff. Williams likes big, husky fellows as umpires and may give Schmidty a chance.

spite of their impressive records, the Giants were not hitting as a unit during the late weeks of the season. Frisch, Gowdy, Young and Kelly were the only members of the outfit who hit up to their records right to the wire.

For example, Meusel's record for the season is .309. Yet he was benched because of indifferent hitting. Again, Snyder, with an average of .305, failed to catch more than twice during the last two weeks because he wasn't hitting the size of his neck band.

What Will Decide
Wilson, a hitting fool in mid-season, has seen his average shrink to .288. It might have evaporated altogether if he hadn't had a piteous margin to work on.

Boiled down the answer is this, according to my non-essential opinion: Pitching and the breaks will decide the series; simply these and nothing more.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

ALEXANDER DUNBAR
Alexander Dunbar died last night, Tuesday, September 30, 1924, at his home, 921 East California, at the age of 80 years. He was a native of Belfast, Ireland. Surviving him are a brother, W. R. Dunbar of London, Ontario, Canada; a sister, Mrs. Mary McDonald of Belfast, Ireland; three daughters, Margaret Dunderdale, Mrs. Jane Bowman of Glendale, and Mrs. Frank E. Canning of Salt Lake City, Utah. Funeral arrangements are being made by Kiefer & Eyerick.

CZERNA S. FLANAGAN
Funeral services for Mrs. Czer-na Scruggs Flanagan, who died yesterday in Monrovia, will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park. Kiefer & Eyerick, directors.

FRANK PHOENIX
Frank Phoenix died Monday, September 29, 1924, at his home, 525 Pioneer drive. He was born in 1858. Surviving him is his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Phoenix. Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park. Rev. Lash, pastor of the Holy-wood Congregational church will officiate.

CHARLES WILLIAM SIMMONS

Charles William Simmons died Monday, September 29, 1924, at the home of his daughter, 411 Chester street at the age of 68 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sallie Simmons; three daughters, Mrs. Emma Rittcliffe, Alma N. Simmons, Adeline E. Simmons; and a son William Simmons. Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning at the home. The body will then be shipped by the Jewel City Undertaking Co. to Jerseyville, Illinois, for interment. Mr. Simmons had been in the real estate and loan business.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Starkweather of 2372 Norwalk avenue, Eagle Rock, are the parents of a daughter, born last night, Tuesday, September 30, 1924, at the Glendale Research hospital.

A daughter was born this morning, Wednesday, October 1, 1924, at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stannard of Van Nuys.

BURGLAR ESCAPES AROUSING CITIZENS FOR CONVENTION

Attempt to Rob Williams Dry Goods Store on North Brand Fails

Excitement prevailed outside the Williams Dry Goods store at 103 North Brand boulevard shortly after 8 o'clock last night, following the discovery that the iron bars at the rear had been bent by a burglar in an effort to gain entrance.

Officers from the Glendale police department surrounded the place, while an angry crowd, incensed at the epidemic of burglaries that has recently swept the city, gathered outside the store and spread across the sidewalk to the street, almost completely blocking traffic.

At first it was believed the thief was trapped inside but when George E. Williams of 455 Riverside drive, proprietor of the establishment, arrived and let the officers in, no one was found and the store gave no evidence of having been entered.

David L. Gregg, proprietor of the hardware store next door, this morning reported that the escaping thief must have jumped over the rear fence and fallen heavily against his warehouse wall, as a number of articles inside on the shelves were shaken to the floor.

On Sunday, September 7, the David L. Gregg Hardware Co. at 107 North Brand boulevard was entered, the safe blown and $850 obtained by daring thieves, police records show.

Committees Named By City Board For State Meet in Pasadena

Final preparations for the part the Glendale Realty board is to take in the state convention of the real estate association at Pasadena, October 8 to 11, were made at the luncheon of the board today at the Alley Inn. A thorough report of the business transacted at Fresno last week, where Peter Hanson, president of the local body, was a member of the committee of thirteen of the state association was present, was heard and members learned of what they would be called upon to decide at the meeting next week.

Glendale realtors will wear bright blue caps with the words "Glendale Realtors" all during the convention, as the result of adopting that color at the meeting. The local body will also be strongly represented in the sports department as well as in the business end, according to J. B. Ginn, chairman of the committee who has named the following to take part in this function: golf, Peter Hanson, Alvin Fairchild, Don B. Dickinson, D. W. Hepburn, horseshoe team, Sam Warren, W. A. Horn, S. S. Gilhuly.

R. W. Striker made a plea to all members of the Glendale board to be in attendance at the Pasadena convention, in order that this body could compete for the 100 per cent attendance card.

Distribute Songs

Plans have been made by the stunt committee to give copies of the Glendale song sung by the Realty board to the visiting members. In this manner Glendale will be well advertised, for the realtors and their wives will take the books home with them.

Will Hope was elected a member for the board and on motion of Secretary Pearson the members elected President Peter Hanson to represent the board both as an individual and as the official representative. The reception to be given the realtors from the northern part of the state will start at Burbank when a delegation, headed by L. H. Meyers, will meet the large caravan there and show them through Glendale.

For Armistice Day

W. A. Horn was chosen representative of the board to work with Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, in the Armistice Day celebration this year. The legion asked for a representative, and preferred one not a member of the legion.

A thorough report of the recommendations made at the meeting of the last week of the real estate committee, working out plans to be carried out at the state convention next week, was made by President Peter Hanson, who explained the action taken there. The main topic for discussion was that of the question brought up a year ago when action was taken to prohibit more than one realty board in a city being eligible for the state association. A recommendation was drawn up and passed by the six of the thirteen committeemen present and this will be before the realty convention in Pasadena, Mr. Hanson said.

PROPOSES RULES IN BARBER SHOPS

Ordinance Regulating Local Establishments Before City Council Tomorrow

By the terms of an ordinance regulating barbers and barber shops, introduced before the Glendale City Council Thursday, September 25, and which may be passed with amendments at tomorrow's session, certificates of health are made compulsory for persons engaged in this business and licenses are required. The proposed ordinance follows in full:

SECTION 1: It shall be unlawful for any person afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis or with any venereal diseases in a communicable form or other infectious or contagious disease to serve any other person as a barber in the city of Glendale.

Each person who may be engaged or intends to engage in the occupation of a barber shall file with the health officer of the city of Glendale an application for a certificate of health. Said application may be accompanied by a statement of the applicant's physical condition signed by a duly licensed physician in the state of California who has made a complete physical examination of said applicant within thirty days prior to the date of said application. Any such person filing an application for a certificate of health may request that the physical examination be made by the health officer of the city, whereupon it shall be the duty of said health officer to make the necessary physical examination without charge. If the health officer shall determine from his own examination or from the statement submitted with such application, or from other means as he may require, that the applicant for a health certificate is free from infectious or communicable diseases, he shall issue a certificate of health.

Choice of Customers

SECTION 2: It shall be unlawful for any barber to serve in his place of business any person or customer who appears to be suffering from any contagious or infectious disease. It shall be unlawful for any barber to use any tool, implement or device in the occupation of barbering, and which is being used in the performance of services upon other persons, upon any person who appears to be suffering from any contagious or infectious disease.

SECTION 3: It shall be unlawful for any person to use any mug, brush, razor, needle, shears, forceps or any metal instrument of any kind in the performance of any services upon or for any other person in any barber shop unless such mug, shaving brush, razor, needle, clippers, forceps or other metal instrument shall have been cleaned and sterilized immediately before using the same.

SECTION 4: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation managing, conducting or carrying on a barber shop to fail, refuse or neglect to keep such barber shop and all appurtenances thereof and all tools instruments and appliances used therein in a clean and sanitary condition.

Running Water

SECTION 5: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation managing, conducting or carrying on a barber shop to fail, refuse or neglect to supply running hot or cold water for use in such barber shop, and it shall be unlawful for any person to use any water in or about the performance of any services upon or for any other person in any barber shop except such water is furnished from such running water supply, and it shall be unlawful for any person to use any water in or about the performance of any services upon or for any person in any barber shop which has previously been used for any service or purpose in such barber shop.

SECTION 6:

It shall be unlawful for any person to use or permit to be used any towel or cloth in the performance of any service upon or for any other person in any barber shop that has been previously used for any purpose, unless such towel or other cloth shall have been laundered since such previous use and is in a clean and fresh condition; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any cloth used to cover the clothing of any person upon or for whom any service is being performed; and providing, also, that it shall be unlawful to permit said last-mentioned cloth to come in contact with the skin of any person except the hands of such person upon or for whom any service is being performed.

Clean Aprons

SECTION 7: It shall be unlawful for any person to fail, refuse or neglect to wear a clean, washable apron, coat or other outer garment while such person is engaged in the performance of any service upon or for any other person in any barber shop.

gaged in the performance of any service upon or for any other person in any barber shop.

SECTION 8: It shall be unlawful for any person to use alum or any other material for the purpose of stopping the flow of blood from any other person in any barber shop, unless such alum or other material is in powdered form.

SECTION 9: It shall be unlawful for any person to use any sponge or powder puff in the performance of any service upon or for any other person in any barber shop.

SECTION 10: It shall be unlawful for any person to perform any service upon or for any other person in any barber shop while hair cut from the face or head of any other person no longer being served remains upon the chair or floor of such barber shop. It shall be the duty of the proprietor of any barber shop or the person in charge thereof to see that hair cut from the face or head of any person is removed from the chair and floor of such shop before any other person is served in the same chair.

Clean Hands

SECTION 11: It shall be unlawful for any person to perform any service upon or for any other person in any barber shop unless such person performing such service shall have thoroughly cleansed his hands immediately before performing such service.

SECTION 12: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation managing, conducting or carrying on a barber shop to permit or allow any person to use the room in which the same is conducted as a sleeping apartment, and it shall be unlawful for any person to use the room in which any barber shop is conducted as a sleeping apartment.

SECTION 13: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to engage in or conduct any barber shop business in the city of Glendale without having first secured a license so to do from the city clerk of the city of Glendale. Any person, firm or corporation desiring a license to engage in the barber shop business in the city of Glendale shall first file an application therefor with the said city clerk. Such application must be accompanied by a fee of $2 and contain the name of the proprietor of the barber shop, the address of the place of business, the number of chairs contained or to be contained in such shop.

For Inspection

SECTION 14: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation conducting or managing any barber shop to refuse to allow the health officer or any duly authorized inspector to enter any portion of such barber shop, or to interfere in any manner whatsoever with the examination or inspection by said health officer or his inspectors of any barber shop or portion thereof or any tools or implements used in carrying on such business.

SECTION 15: It shall be the duty of the health officer to enforce the provisions of this ordinance, and said health officer and his inspectors are hereby authorized to enter any barber shop in the city of Glendale when the same is open for business, for the purpose of inspecting the same and the contents thereof. If, upon examination and inspection of any barber shop, the same or any portion thereof, or any tool or implement used therein, is found to be in an unclean or unsanitary condition, the health officer or his inspectors shall by notice in writing require the owner, lessee, manager, agent or other person in charge of or in authority over such barber shop to cause the same to be cleaned and placed in a sanitary condition within a reasonable time (dependent upon the character of the work to be done), after the date of the service of such notice and any person failing to comply with the requirements of the said notice shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as herein provided.

Provides Punishment

SECTION 16: Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $300 or by imprisonment in the city jail or in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Each such person, firm or corporation shall be deemed guilty of a separate offense for every day during any portion of which any violation of any provision of this ordinance is continued or permitted by any such person, firm or corporation, and shall be punishable therefor as provided by this ordinance. Any person convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall have his permit and license to act as a barber revoked and notice thereof shall be given to the city clerk by the health officer.

SECTION 17: If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this ordinance.
